

The MISSIONARY WORKER

ORGAN OF THE
BRITISH UNION CONFERENCE
OF
SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS

PRINCIPLES AND STANDARDS

By W. H. MEREDITH

THE European Division Council met at Gland during the month of January, and spent considerable time struggling with the problems of the whole field. During this important meeting the departmental secretaries brought in certain resolutions on Denominational Principles and Standards, and after sincere friendly discussion these were passed by the whole European Division with the request that they be printed in all our church papers.

These Principles and Standards have been laid before the Union Committee and also before the workers at the recent Workers' Meetings. There was a splendid spirit at these gatherings and on the whole a real desire to come up to the standards as shown in these resolutions. We are quite sure that the members of our churches throughout Great Britain desire to be loyal to this cause and to the truth. We are therefore putting these resolutions in this issue of the WORKER so that all our churchmembers may read them and give consent to them by seeking to carry them out in their lives.

We sincerely hope that our good churchmembers will take these things as from the Lord, coming to us as they do from the General Conference Committee of the European Division. We pray that God may bless all our churchmembers as they read these for themselves and endeavour to live in accordance with them. Read carefully the statements concerning the position of the world and the place the remnant church should fill. Ask yourself very carefully "Is there anything in these statements that is not true?" On the other hand, ask yourself "If these things are really true to-day, how must I relate myself to them and to the principles and standards of our denomination?" Read the resolutions carefully and prayerfully and may God bless you all.

Recognizing that the true and supreme objective of this Movement is to prepare a people ready to meet the Lord, and

Recognizing that we have reached the days of peril spoken of in the Scriptures, when spiritual declension and moral degeneracy exists on every hand, a time when worldly amusement, modern styles of dress, the reading of pernicious literature, with its appeal to infidelity and impurity, are on the increase, and

Recognizing that the Remnant Church, surrounded by these evil influences, must stand in the purity, strength, and integrity of her high and holy calling, loyal to the truth and to the principles of simplicity, modesty and dignity,

Resolved, That, as representatives of this European Division of the General Conference, assembled in Winter Council, we do hereby express our profound conviction that a thorough knowledge and a faithful observance of the fundamentals of the Message are of the utmost importance to young and old alike, and would, in view of this significant fact urge—

1. That our Ministry and Church leaders put forth a systematic, earnest effort, instructing thoroughly our churchmembers, particularly the youth, in such fundamental subjects of the Message as, Righteousness in Christ, the Sanctuary and Christ's Priestly Ministry, the Second Coming of Christ, the Sacredness of the Sabbath, the Prophecies relating to our Time, the Support of the Ministry, Spiritual Gifts, and other Bible doctrines.

2. That painstaking care be exercised in maintaining the highest standard of moral conduct in the lives of churchmembers, giving special attention to the proper instruction of our youth in order to shield them from the evil influences of this age.

3. That workers and church leaders of experience and maturity give instruction and counsel to our young people on the subject of marriage, warning them against the dangers of being "unequally yoked together with unbelievers" and those of a different faith.

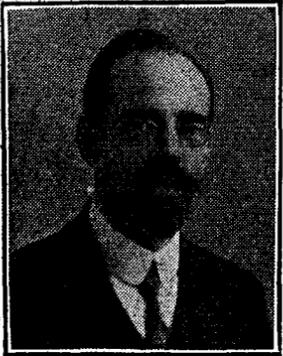

4. That our church officers and lay-members, young and old, refrain from the harmful practice of attending theatres, kinemas, dances, and other questionable places of amusement, as such indulgence is a menace to morality and destructive to spirituality.

5. That unqualified disapproval be placed upon the reading of literature of a low, immoral, and fictitious nature, as such tends to destroy interest in the Scriptures, thus unfitting the mind for Christian usefulness.

6. That all our leaders in conferences and institutions join heartily in an effort to educate all our people to maintain a high standard of modesty, simplicity and propriety in dress, consistent with the solemnity of the message committed to us.

7. That our members become better acquainted with the principles of healthful living, and that they refrain from the use of harmful drugs and stimulants, including coffee and tea, observing faithfully the important standards committed to us for our physical and spiritual well-being.

Notes from the President

ON Sabbath, February 12th, it was our privilege to conduct a baptismal service in the Halstead (Essex) Baptist Church; four persons, three brethren and a sister, uniting with us. Two of these brethren, father and son, are engaged in the colporteur work. The other brother accepted the message through the efforts of one of our new colporteurs, and the sister took her stand through the labours of another colporteur. We rejoice with these dear ones who have united with God's commandment-keeping people, and pray that the Lord will abundantly bless them as they in turn strive to win souls for Him.

WE are apt to measure the work of the colporteur by the number of books he disposes of in a week, or by the number delivered, and certainly these items do enter very materially into the success of our book workers. But it must not be forgotten that personal influence, before and after the book is ordered or delivered, counts for a great deal. Some colporteurs are always on the alert for opportunities of speaking a word for the Master, and the Lord is pleased to use them.

OWING to the shortage of funds in the European Division, the South British Conference has been able to obtain only sixty per cent. of the appropriations asked for. This means that the small reserve of the conference, already reduced, must be brought to a still lower figure, and that campaign budgets must be cut considerably. Should the tithe show a large gain this year as compared with 1926, things will improve. Unfortunately the month of January records a decrease of £67. Surely this situation constitutes a serious call to faithfulness and loyalty on the part of every member of our church. If any have withheld the Lord's tithe for any reason, is not this the time to return to Him what He claims as His own? "There is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty."

WILL treasurers and isolated members kindly send in their funds for February not later than March 1st? Thank you.

WE would be glad also if conference workers would please send in their reports from month to month promptly. Attention to this matter will greatly assist our treasurer in his efforts to close the conference books early.

At last we are able to report that the N. London building site for which we have been negotiating for over six months, is ours. As soon as possible we shall commence building. We are thankful to say that through the generosity of the General Conference and the British Union Conference most of the money required for putting up the church is in sight. The local conference, however, is several hundred pounds short of its quota. If there are any brethren and sisters in this field who are in a position to help us in this matter we would be glad if they would communicate with the president. It should be remembered that the site will become the permanent headquarters of the conference so that all our members are interested in the project.

The Wimbledon Colporteurs' Institute

WHAT must rank as one of the best colporteurs' institutes on record in this field was held in the Stanley Hall, Wimbledon, from January 28th to February 3rd.

Over thirty of our regular colporteurs were in attendance and their earnest desire to be better fitted to conduct this book ministry was very noticeable throughout the whole session.

We were indeed blessed by the wonderfully spiritual ministry of Pastor J. C. Raft, Secretary of the European Division, and our Union President, Pastor W. H. Meredith; the morning devotional hour being a source of inspiration and strength to us all.

While Brother Raft was pleased with the work already accomplished by our colporteurs in the South British Conference, he assured us that much greater success should be expected, and indeed will be realized, when we maintain the same "living connexion with God" as that enjoyed by the apostles of the early church and other notable Bible characters.

From the many petitions that ascended to God in the prayer meetings on the last two mornings of the institute it was evident that exhortation given by these leading brethren had implanted an earnest desire in the heart of everyone present for a deeper experience, and for more of the power of God to be manifest in the work committed to us.

Pastor S. Joyce led out in the general instruction each day and by means of well arranged charts dealt most helpfully with the underlying principles of Gospel salesmanship.

As the various steps were successively explained we were impressed with the fact that the work of enlightening the world through our literature is a science in itself, and one that calls for the enlisting of every faculty by those engaged in this service. Here is offered scope for the most intellectual and highly-trained.

Canvassing demonstrations by both experienced workers and those comparatively new to the work were equally well enjoyed. The undoubted ability shown by quite youthful workers as they demonstrated with the large book was a most gratifying feature of this part of our programme. We thank God for such marked ability in those so young in years, and pray that He will jealously guard and guide them as they go on into the service of manhood.

The high standard of the public demonstrations was very largely due to the splendid drilling by Brother Benefield, who gave us the benefit of his rich experience as a Gospel salesman.

Brother D. Davies, the Field Secretary from the north, had to leave on Tuesday morning, so we were deprived of his inspiring help during the last half of the institute. His Welsh enthusiasm is always contagious. Representatives from the Stanborough Press, Pastor A. S. Maxwell, Brother A. Warren, and Brother J. Rigby, each gave us valuable instruction regarding the colporteurs' relation to the publishing house.

Brother Maxwell's stirring address at the closing service on Thursday, as he spoke from the words in Nehemiah 6: 11—"Should such a man as I flee?" will long be remembered. Its strong appeal for unwavering loyalty to our task told on every heart.

The "tea" given by the Press rounded off the work of drawing the "field" and the "house" into a closer bond in a much appreciated manner. We all "fell to" with real zest.

We would express our thanks to the Wimbledon Church for the use of their comfortable hall and for the warm welcome they extended to us.

Pastor F. A. Spearing had planned to be present but was prevented through sickness, for which we were all deeply sorry.

As we think over this institute with its deep, spiritual tone, coupled with such practical instruction, our hearts go out to God in gratitude for His many blessings, and we are assured that much better work for the Master will accrue as a result.

Grand Opening at Hove

Third Campaign in Hove Town Hall

OUR membership will be glad to know that on Sunday, February 6th, we successfully began our third campaign in Hove. When we opened our campaign in 1925 we expected but small results, for Hove is a conservative and reserved sea-side resort, and there was considerable prejudice against Adventism in the community, but the Lord has wonderfully blessed His servants, and, in spite of all the difficulties, some fifty new members were added to the church through the 1925 and 1926 campaigns.

It was our intention to work in Brighton for the 1927 campaign. After two successive efforts in the Hove Town Hall we thought it inadvisable to have a third. However, through unavoidable delays in negotiations the opening that was made for us in Brighton was closed. Every other possible avenue for an effort was investigated with no success, and it was necessary to go back once again to Hove and to the same hall. We didn't like the idea and yet we believed that we would have success and that the reputation gained during previous efforts would hold us in good stead.

We advertized the subject, "The Clash in China! Is it an Omen of a Greater World War?" and sent out private circulars, personally addressed, to all the larger houses in Hove, in addition to the usual handbills so faithfully circulated by our churchmembers.

The result was an audience as large as our first Sunday in 1925. About a thousand people assembled. Rarely has the writer addressed an audience so intensely interested. We received 230 requests for literature and £13 collection!

We thank God for this wonderful response and beginning. We realize that these things are only possible as we, His servants, wait upon Him for power and blessing. It is gratifying to know that so many are praying on our behalf. From Leigh, from Scotland, and elsewhere, comes the good news, "We are praying for you." We invite many more to join these friends in praying for a successful close and bountiful fruitage to this third campaign in the Hove Town Hall.

Miss Lenanton and Miss Olive Davies are our valuable Bible-women, while Brother Freeth has been called to play the difficult role of "right-hand man".

GEORGE HYDE.

Holding the Fort at Devonport

A Cheering Report of the Effort

THERE is no greater force borne in upon the mind to-day than the reality of the power of the truth. Again God has stretched forth His mighty arm and strengthened the hands of His servants in Plymouth, giving them favour in the eyes of those who are in authority in this ancient and historical town.

The "Alhambra", Devonport, a well-appointed theatre holding 1,100 people, was obtained for the first meeting on February 6th. Every part of the theatre except the gallery which seats about 200, was packed by 7 o'clock, so we were pleased with a very good attendance of 900. The collection was £8. 3s., and included 300 threepenny-bits. A very good interest was evinced throughout the meeting, and 225 names and addresses were handed in for literature. The "Morning News"—a Harmsworth newspaper, gave us a good headline and report.

The attendance at the second meeting on February 13th was influenced somewhat by a great counter attraction at the Central Hall, Devonport, but fully 700 people were present to hear the message. Two hundred names were received, 100 of which were in addition to the 225 received on the first night. We are greatly pleased with the response to our first two weeks' announcements. It has always been a difficult thing in Plymouth and Devonport to attract large and regular attendances, but the Lord is breaking down the walls of conservative opposition and local conventionalities.

The workers—Miss Jean Bastow and Miss Margaret Murdoch—have their hands full with so many interested people. The local brethren and sisters are working enthusiastically to make the effort a real success.

We ask the members throughout the field to remember us in prayer, that all the difficulties will be surmounted, and many souls won for the truth.

Items of Interest

ON February 2nd and 3rd, the workers of the North British Conference assembled in York for a short workers' institute. All our conference labourers were present with the exception of Brother De'Ath who, though he arrived in York, through sickness was not able to attend the meetings. We are glad to learn that he is recovering.

PASTOR RAFT and our Union President were present, and rendered very acceptable service. It was a short meeting, but a very profitable one, and all our workers returned to their respective fields of labour greatly helped and encouraged. We are confident that this gathering will result in more efficient service in every branch of this grand and blessed work.

FROM February 4th to 10th our canvassers held their annual institute, also at York. Brethren Raft and Meredith were there most of the time, and gave very valuable help. The writer was present as much as possible, but funerals and sickness took him away part of the time. We look for 1927 to show a very marked improvement in the work of scattering our message-filled literature in this very populous conference. We hope the day is not far distant when, in very truth, our literature will be scattered like the leaves of autumn.

WE invite our members to pray for the leaders in this work, our conference workers, our faithful canvassers, and our church officers. If we do this day by day, we shall be able to sing with spirit and understanding that lovely hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds."

DURING the two institutes in York we were called away to conduct three funerals. On Thursday, February 3rd, we laid to rest Pastor Bell's wife, on Sabbath morning, February 5th, Brother Clarkestone of Nottingham, and on Monday afternoon, February 7th, Sister Casson of Sheffield. Of each we can truly say that they sleep in Jesus.

OUR evangelistic efforts are progressing favourably. In Glasgow the attendances are still very good. At Gateshead Pastor Bailey still has a full hall, having secured over 700 names and addresses for literature, while in Liverpool Pastor Rodd also has an increased attendance with more names and addresses. Pastor Craven of Leeds is binding off his work there and getting ready for another good baptism. We are glad to welcome to the conference Pastor J. B. West from the town of Cambridge. Our brother will do pastoral work in the Leeds district.

BRETHREN COPPOCK and Madgwick are likewise bringing their efforts to fruition.

NEXT month we expect to baptize a number in West Hartlepool, where Sister Donaldson has been following up an interest previously aroused in that place.

WE are looking for 1927 to be the banner year for this North British Conference in the winning of souls, and we invite the prayers and the hearty cooperation of all our members to this end. While our appropriation for this year is cut down by half, we believe that if all our members are faithful in returning to the Lord His own, the means will be forthcoming to carry on our aggressive work.

MONDAY, February 28th, is the date on which all the tithe and offerings should be sent in to the conference office. Our members can help in this matter by seeing that their funds are in the hands of their treasurer not later than Sunday, the 27th.

ALFRED E. BACON.

The North British Colporteurs' Institute

WE are very happy to be able to say without fear of contradiction that our colporteurs' institute held at York from February 4th to 10th was a time of real heart-searching and spiritual enjoyment combined.

We were very fortunate indeed to have with us Pastor J. C. Raft, Secretary of the European Division of the General Conference, also Pastors Meredith and Bacon. The messages that came to us from them will certainly never be forgotten.

The instruction given by our Union Field Missionary Secretary, Pastor S. Joyce, was the best that could be secured, and when put into practice in the field will result in an increase both in sales and souls won to the truth.

We could not possibly refrain from adding another feature that made our institute a huge success. The Stanborough Press was well represented. Brother A. Warren was able to be present from the first and remained to the last meeting. His lantern lecture entitled, "The Story of the Written and Printed Word" was much appreciated by all present.

Pastor A. S. Maxwell, with his abundance of enthusiasm, joined us the last three days, and his soul-inspiring talks gave us a fresh impetus for the battle before us.

On Wednesday afternoon, at 5.30, the Stanborough Press invited the colporteurs and officers of the York Church to a social prepared at the Creamery Cafe, and in the evening Pastor Maxwell gave his popular Kinematograph lecture, "The Stanborough Press in Action" which, owing to the unpacified applause had to be given the second time.

Thursday, the closing day of the institute, will ever be remembered. Pastor Maxwell led out in the devotional hour from 9 to 10, and opportunity was here given for testimony. Afterwards Pastor Maxwell had a very pleasant duty to perform. On behalf of the Stanborough Press he presented prizes to five colporteurs for faithful service rendered during December last.

We are very sorry to state that several of our faithful colporteurs were unable to attend the institute owing to sickness.

We would express our appreciation to Brother B. Belton, Field Missionary Secretary of the South British Conference, also Brother J. Benefield, for their valuable help in class work, and we wish to thank the York Church, also, for their kindly welcome and the free use of their meeting place during the institute.

D. DAVIES.

“Pastor Bailey at Gateshead”

THIS is the headline of a paragraph in the local newspaper. Pastor Bailey's lectures in Gateshead have become so popular that newspaper reporters, in using them as items of interest for their papers; find it sufficient to refer to them in this way. The Sunday evening lecture at the Coatsworth Cinema is the event of the week, for this section of the Tyne-side.

We are glad to report that the interest aroused on the opening nights of the campaign has been maintained. At each of the five meetings held thus far, an audience of over one thousand has listened with marked appreciation to the truths presented by the speaker. Many people have confessed to having received more satisfaction during their attendance at the meetings these past five weeks, than they have obtained during the past five years at other places of worship.

The list of names of those who have applied for our literature is rapidly increasing and promises before long to reach the thousand mark. Although the campaign is yet young we are already visiting over seven hundred interested people.

These rapid developments have occasioned a need for more helpers, and we are pleased to welcome Sister Donaldson as an additional worker. Sister Donaldson is spending three days a week in Newcastle in addition to continuing her work in her previous field of labour.

The Stanboroughs

ONE of the most enjoyable and profitable programmes of the season was given in The Stanboroughs' gymnasium on Monday evening at 7.30 p.m. The occasion was the Annual Constituency Meeting of the Board of Executors of the Good Health Association Ltd. Many of the members of the Constituency were present from various parts of Great Britain.

An illustrated lecture on our world-wide medical missionary work was given. In 1866 our first sanitarium was established with two physicians, seventeen workers, and a capital of £5,000. To-day we have more than sixty such institutions, in almost all countries of the world, employing over 500 doctors,

Become a Self-Supporting Home Missionary Worker

In order to enable our paper-workers to devote their whole time to the spreading of Gospel literature and to encourage others to take up this work, it has been decided that from March 1, 1927, extra settlement discounts will be given to those ordering certain quantities of “Good Health” and “Present Truth”.

Increased Discounts on Magazines

These new discounts will make it much easier to earn a livelihood while doing the best kind of missionary work.

nearly 5,000 helpers, and with assets reaching almost, if not quite, £2,000,000. Lantern slides of many of the sanitariums in the United States, South America, England, Germany, Denmark, Norway, Switzerland, India, China and Australia, were shown, also many of our scores of hospitals and dispensaries in heathen lands.

Tableaux were arranged and interspersed in the lecture, the lantern light being thrown upon them when the curtain was drawn. The first, "Welcome," was a group of all our nurses. They looked very statuesque as they stood motionless in the dazzling light. "The Nurse in the Making" was depicted by a tiny child dressed as a nurse and doctoring her doll; a prospective first year, second, and third year nurse were also represented. "District Nurse" and mission scenes gave proof of good preparation, and the representations of the various treatments given by the Sanitarium, such as massage, fomentations, occupational therapy, were all intensely interesting, also the gymnasium groups and finally the attractive good-night tableau.

To the one side was a large rack, eight feet long and seven feet high, displaying all the kinds of fruits, vegetables, grains and nuts, which are used in the Sanitarium bill of fare. It was an attractive and tempting array, and one wondered how anyone could stoop to eat the carcasses of animals when such original and healthful foods are available.

Pastor W. H. Meredith presided and music was furnished by Mrs. Trace, Miss Hayton, Miss Howard, and Miss Ruble. The gymnasium was packed to the limit, and the back stairs and entry were crowded.

AMID great enthusiasm it was voted at the recent General Conference that London should be provided with a representative church building. Since then it has been decided that a little more than half the cost should be borne by the General Conference, the British field being made responsible for the remainder. After many disappointments a commanding site has been secured—situated nearly at the corner of Finsbury Park Road and Holloway Road, opposite the Nag's Head. The beautiful new structure will be seen by tens of thousands every day. A clause in the contract calls for the erection of the building within nine months; so that we may hope to see it completed before the end of 1927. The elevation and ground floor plan will be reproduced in an early issue of the WORKER.

DURING the past week the annual legal meetings of our various institutions were held at Stanborough Park. All of the institutions, we are glad to say, were able to report good progress despite all the difficulties of 1926.

IN connexion with these meetings, two special public services were held, one at "The Stanboroughs," described elsewhere in this issue by Dr. Ruble, and the other in the College chapel. The latter was conducted by the Stanborough Press, short addresses being given by the heads of departments, after which the now famous film, "The Press in Action," was shown.

By the way, we have already received several requests from various parts of the field for these most interesting and instructive moving pictures and we shall do our best to answer them in the near future.

OUR people in Wales will be glad to learn that (D.V.) the film will be shown during the forthcoming Welsh meeting, which is to be held over the Easter week-end, April 14th to 18th. (Further particulars in next issue.)

OUR people will be glad to learn that last week the B.U.C. committee decided to inaugurate an employment bureau, with Brother A. Carey as secretary. The object of the bureau will be to keep a record of all Seventh-Day Adventists requiring employment and to endeavour to find them suitable situations. Naturally the fullest particulars and first-class testimonials will be required of those desirous of making use of the bureau.

TALKING of situations reminds us of the scores who seek employment at the Stanborough Press. We are besieged with applications and we are more than sorry we can't take you all on. There are only thirty "jobs" at the Press, anyway, and they are all filled.

SOMETIMES we get applications we simply are unable to turn away. Just the other day Mrs. H.

Argent presented our linotype operator with a bonnie baby girl—and what could we do but congratulate them both and all concerned! They say she weighs nearly eight pounds and is very pleased with what she has seen of life so far.

Special Broadcasts from WEMC

IN the conduct of our large denominational radio station located here at Berrien Springs, Michigan, U.S.A., it is necessary from time to time to broadcast test programmes. These programmes make it possible for the management of the station to determine just how effectively the third angel's message is going out through the air to the regions beyond.

On the morning of March 1st, from 12 o'clock midnight until 2 o'clock a.m., United States Central Standard time, there will be broadcast a specially prepared test programme. We are very anxious for all of our people, not only in America, but in other parts of the world to strive earnestly to receive this programme from Berrien Springs.

Also during the night of March 26th, WEMC will present its fourth anniversary programme in behalf of the great work of giving the message to which the station is dedicated. We expect to run this programme late enough so that our people everywhere will stand a reasonable chance of hearing.

Allowance for differences in time should be determined, and by careful tuning, many of our believers should be able to hear the voices and instrumental music from the Radio Lighthouse. This station operates on a wave length of 316 metres, and will use on this special broadcast 4,000 watts of power. Due to the difference in time, tuning will have to be done accurately, for there will be very little darkness remaining in most parts of the world. Estimate from some station in your own locality just where 316 metres will come on your dials. Our people who succeed in receiving this programme should cable or write Station WEMC, Berrien Springs, Michigan, immediately.

God's blessing has attended the work of the station and since September practically five hundred names of interested listeners have been coming in at the radio office, and to these persons literature will be mailed at regular intervals.

Specially do the blind, invalids, and those who are shut in write to us of the blessing which they receive by means of the services going out over the air. The prayers of God's people everywhere are solicited for the continued success of this great work.

PAUL N. PEARCE. Programme Director WEMC
