

The MISSIONARY WORKER

ORGAN OF THE
BRITISH UNION CONFERENCE
OF
SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS

COME OVER AND HELP US

By W. E. READ

THIS plaintive appeal from Southern Europe which rang in the ears of the Apostle Paul many centuries ago is being heard by the servants of God to-day. Now, however, it comes from all over the world. The call comes from heathen Africa where the Ethiopian is stretching out his hands unto God: it comes from many honest hearts in Catholic countries where superstitions and darkness hold the people in abject bondage: it comes from Moslem lands where the blighting influence of Mohammedanism hangs like a pall over the people. Everywhere the calls are pressing in upon the Mission Board, but owing to the lack of means we have not been able to send the workers, and we fear that in some cases it may even now be too late.

In the European Division, which comprises not only Europe proper, but also the Near East over as far as Persia, and a large section of Africa, we have over six hundred millions of people speaking many languages and belonging to many races. In this territory we have also the holy places or headquarters of three large religious systems. There is Rome, the seat of the papacy: there is Palestine with its holy places common to all branches of the Christian church; and then there is Arabia with the sacred shrines of Islam at Medina and Mecca.

So far little or nothing has been done for the millions of Moslems, and we have only but touched the work for the heathen in the dark continent of Africa. On every hand there are millions of people who know not God and who are wandering in the darkness and the shadow of death, not knowing where to turn for light. In Africa, in Persia, and in other countries, one can travel for days and days and pass village after village, mile after mile, and not see a Christian teacher, either European or native. Vast areas still remain untouched and the people, in their darkness and ignorance, are calling for those who can show them the way of life.

THE NEED.

When visiting these mission fields one is amazed at the appalling situation that confronts one on every hand. The awful ignorance and degradation of the people call for schools where they can learn the better way and be led out of their darkness to Jesus, the Light of Life. The terrible physical condition of the people, the prevalence of disease of all kinds, and the imposition of the witch doctors, call for medical workers to bring these people help in their afflictions. The sad spiritual condition of the heathen who are worshipping idols or placating the evil spirits, or worse still, wandering, as many are, in the mazes of atheism and doubt, make a clarion call to the church to send forth men and women in whose hearts burns the love of Christ and His compassionate longing to save the lost. Here is the great need to-day. How shall we relate ourselves to it? What shall we do, we who are living under better conditions with the light of the Gospel and so many temporal and spiritual advantages? What shall we do for these people still living in superstition, in bondage, and in death?

THE CALL.

Then think of the pathetic calls which filter through from these far-away lands from time to time. Away off in Abyssinia, in the very heart of that land of mystery, is a group of nearly two hundred people who have broken away from heathenism and have learned of Jesus. They are pleading with us for baptism, yet we have no worker to send. Two of their chiefs walked over twenty-six day's journey to our mission station, and encountered all kinds of dangers in order to lay their earnest request before us. But we haven't the means to send the teacher.

Again, in Madagascar we have had delegation after delegation from all parts of the island pleading with us to send workers to teach the people the Gospel of Christ. They travel for miles in their eagerness to find the light, only to be told that we cannot send them a worker. What shall we do? We have Catholic fields where the darkness of superstition seems to reign supreme, where the people are kept in ignorance of the divine Word and know little or nothing of the Saviour Who alone can save them from their sins. From these fields the call comes for teachers and workers. The same story can be told of West Africa, of East Africa and of many other fields, but this is not all. In all these lands young men must be trained to work for their own people. We need training schools in Sierra Leone, in the Gold Coast, in Nigeria, in East Africa, in Persia, in Egypt and in many other countries. And this is a real need to-day. We are being pressed by our workers to establish such educational centres. Will you not help us to do this, and also help us to answer these urgent calls from Abyssinia and Madagascar?

“Shall we whose souls are lighted,
With wisdom from on high,
Shall we to men benighted,
The lamp of life deny?
Salvation, O salvation!
The joyful sound proclaim
Till earth's remotest nation
Has heard Messiah's name.”

South British Conference

President: F. A. Spearing

Notes from the President

It was our privilege to spend the week-end, Friday, May 6th, to Monday, May 9th, visiting isolated members in Cornwall. It was good to come into touch with some whom we had not met for many months, and in some cases, a year or more. We were glad to assure these isolated ones that we ever remember them at the throne of grace. Every morning, at our family worship, we pray for the brethren and sisters who are isolated, and therefore unable to meet with those of like precious faith, from week to week.

WE trust our people throughout the field—that is the members in Wales, as well as in South England—are planning to attend the forthcoming session of the South British Conference. This session, as stated previously, is to be held in North London, quite near our present headquarters. As the first meeting commences Friday, July 29th, definite plans should now be made by those who wish to attend.

WE are glad that the tithe returns for the conference for the month of April are a little better than for the first three months of this year. We hope and pray that we shall have a gain from month to month during this present year, as so much depends on the amount that reaches the treasurer in this way. Let us all be faithful to God in this respect and count on the blessing that accompanies obedience.

THE report of book and periodical sales for the first four months of this year has just arrived from The Stanborough Press. Total sales in the South British Conference for January to April 1927 amount to £4,630 as compared with £4,538 for the same period of 1926. We are glad to see this increase. We pray that God's blessing will rest in abundant measure upon all our colporteurs—not forgetting the student colporteurs, as they go from door to door with our literature.

WE are glad to be able to announce that at last the plans prepared for the North London church building have passed the London County Council. This means that before very long, the actual work on the building will have been begun. Should our members desire to contribute towards the cost of this building, we shall be very glad to receive any donation.

F. A. SPEARING.

Irish Conference Meetings

THE annual meetings of the Irish division of the South British Conference will be held in the S.D.A. Church, Florenceville Avenue, Ormeau Road, Belfast, from Friday, 7.30 p.m. June 10th, to Sunday, June 12th, inclusive. We are expecting to have with us our union president, Pastor W. H. Meredith, our local president, Pastor F. A. Spearing, and other department leaders as well as the workers labouring in the Irish field. There will be no business conducted; the whole of the time will be devoted to Bible addresses and studies. A rich feast awaits those who plan to attend. YOU cannot afford to miss one meeting. Let us rally in full numbers so as to give the visiting brethren a real, good Irish welcome. All those who are planning to attend and who require lodgings, kindly write to Miss M. Ballard, 15 Ardenlie Parade, Cregagh Road, stating all requirements.

Plymouth Ceases Effort for Lack of Funds

Hundreds of sincere seekers turned away!

THOUSANDS have attended the evangelistic services at the Alhambra Theatre, Plymouth. The ninth meeting there saw the best attendance of all, the subject being “Adam and Eve—Did they come from Apes?”

When we announced that this would be our last subject in the Theatre a sigh of disappointment was heard all over the building. The Theatre is most comfortable and accommodating, and the letters of appreciation we have received from satisfied patrons show that they were not only keenly interested in the services, but that they liked, also, the appointment of the meeting place. The £8 per week which we paid for it appears to have been well spent in bringing together such a splendid class of people.

Many times in the past evangelists have had to turn people away from their meetings for lack of space, but this is probably the first time in the history of our work in England when hundreds of sincere seekers after truth have had to be sent away because we could not afford a hall large enough to accommodate them.

After the “Alhambra Services” we took our congregation over to the Exmouth Hall, Devonport, seating about 700 people, and into this we tried to pack over 800. The first night the ventilation was so bad, owing to the overcrowded condition of the Hall, that two people fainted, and many went away. The second week people fainted, and there was general disappointment because it was felt that such well attended services should have been held in a more suitable Hall, but money cannot be obtained from the conference. The cutting down, also, of our budget allowance two or three times, even during the period of the effort, made it imperative to cease the evangelistic work in the large Theatre much sooner than is usual in well conducted and successful efforts.

We have the addresses of over 650 homes on our visiting list and much of the work with the occupants of these should have been done in our large public meetings. Now the closing down of these meetings places much more work and responsibility upon our Bible-workers. Fortunately we have in Plymouth two of the most experienced lady workers in the conference, and we have confidence that Miss Jean Bastow and Miss M. Murdoch will accomplish a good work for God as a result of our evangelistic work.

In the meantime we are carrying on our meetings in a smaller way, and ask the prayers of the readers of the MISSIONARY WORKER.

PERCIVAL PRESCOTT.

Youth and Evangelism

ALONG with the call to soul-winning evangelism comes the call to youth and to all on behalf of youth. Young life receives impressions that make or mar the future and shape its history.

The foundation for a life of service is laid in early youth and here lies the secret of all future success in the advancement of the message.

From the youth of to-day we shall recruit our evangelists, colporteurs, ministers, Bible-workers, church leaders, and, in fact, all our workers for the cause of God.

The agencies for the cause of our youth and children are with us in the home, Sabbath-school, young people's societies, and the church, also the church schools and the College.

We wonder whether we are doing all we might in leading the youth to a definite decision for Christ and a consecration of their life's service to the finishing of the work. It is true that "wonderful opportunities are passing by unimproved in every church." "Who will take the youth apart and help them in making the supreme surrender of their lives, which is spoken of as 'the greatest battle that we have to fight—the surrender of self to the will of God, the yielding of the heart to the sovereignty of love'."

Our hearts have been encouraged by what has already been accomplished, but the success gained only gives us some little idea of what yet remains to be done.

The report of our Missionary Volunteer societies for March shows a total of 856 members, 319 of these juniors, with a total of 328 reporting members.

The work accomplished by this band is inspiring:

Missionary visits	830
Hours of Christian help work	3240
Bouquets given to the sick	216
Papers distributed	23800
Tracts distributed	5900
Books distributed	960
Missionary letters written	306
Gifts for missions	£13. 15s.

The opportunities for helping and saving the youth and children are with us to-day, but we cannot say what to-morrow will bring forth. They make their appeal to us NOW. To-morrow may be too late!

There is the promise of good return for every investment of interest in youth.

In the recommendation that came from the General Conference, item 8, we read that "unceasing effort should be put forth to win and hold our own youth, bringing a personal appeal to every youth of Seventh-Day Adventist parentage." Surely the time has come when we should look for a much larger addition of young people to our ranks and everyone added should find their place in Christian service. "Well instructed children and youth can work in many lines for the Master, and can even in their early years be a blessing to those with whom they come in contact."

"We want our children to take part in well-organized plans for helping other youth."

We make our appeal to conference workers, church leaders and officers and teachers: Let us unite together in a great forward movement on behalf of the young people.

A series of special lessons suitable for the little ones also for the children and for older young people have been prepared and will be gladly supplied free, together with advice and help.

"Give us the watchword for the hour
A thrilling word, a word of power,
A battle cry, a flaming breath,
That calls to conquest or to death.

"The glad evangel now proclaim
Through all the earth in Jesu's name,
This word is ringing through the skies
Evangelize! Evangelize!"

"With such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained, might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world."—"Education," page 271. F. W. GOODALL.

Sabbath-School Rally at Southend

WITH a view to stimulating interest in the Sabbath-school work a convention was held at the Southend church on March 19th. That Sabbath was chosen because it was the twelfth of the quarter, and it was hoped that the programme would pave the way for a successful thirteenth Sabbath—which it did.

The time of the Sabbath-school was spent in the usual way, and the convention held in the hour generally allocated for preaching.

After an opening hymn and prayer, the arranged programme was carried through. Six papers were read dealing with the following subjects:

1. The Sabbath-School's Existence Justified.
2. Attendance and Punctuality.
3. Characteristics of Best Reviews.
4. The Advisability of a Teacher's Meeting.
5. Qualifications of a Teacher, and Methods of Teaching.
6. The Importance of Sabbath-School Offerings.

All the papers were excellent and provided much food for thought. We feel sure that if all the advice in the papers were put into practice, we should have a model Sabbath-school. An extract from the paper on "Sabbath-School Offerings" may be of interest to other people, so we will quote it. After other remarks the writer of the paper stated that:

“Our offerings provide enabling our missicnaries to answer the many calls of To help them we must thus practising the so that we can to tell others the that the and all may that none need and though we be we must endeavour to and by means of the the Sab- bath-School Offering thus to enable missionaries to point out the and help them to grasp the before the time of

Soul Saving Opportunities, Save Our Souls (S.O.S.) Save Our Silver, Spirit Of Sacrifice, Send Sanctified Ones Sweet Old Story Saviour Suffered Once, Secure Salvation's Offer; Stand Sadly Outside, Scarcely Saved Ourselves Save Other Souls, Show Our Sympathy Sinner's Only Security Soul's One Solace Soul Saving is Over.”

Interspersed with the reading of the papers were several musical items, comprised of three choruses from the Young People's Society; a double quartette to a special setting of "Strong Son of God" from Tennyson's "In Memoriam"; and a solo by Sister L. Carter. Also, a poem was given by one of the young people.

Many expressions of appreciation for the interest and enjoyment of the programme were offered by those present, and we trust that the convention will prove to have been of practical value, even beyond the help it may have been to the last Sabbath of the quarter. ALFRED A. D. VINCE, Superintendent.

North British Conference

President: A. E. Bacon

Presidential Notes

WHERE shall we spend our Whitsuntide holidays? As far as the North British Conference is concerned, there is but one place, and that is the city of Hull. Our annual conference convenes at that time, and we trust that a large number of our members will be present for this annual feast. Those who desire to combine pleasure with the privilege of attending an annual meeting can do so; there will be no difficulty in getting some good sea-breezes down at the water-side. The address of the hall, the date of the meeting, and the one in charge of the apartments, have already been published in the WORKER.

WE are glad to report some excellent church officers' conventions in a number of our churches, and believe that the instruction given has not only been greatly appreciated, but will help materially all departments of the work in these large centres, and we trust that the future will witness a steady increase and development of the cause in these different churches.

MAY 16th will witness the closing exercises of another school year, a number of students are graduating. Four, we are glad to say, come from the North British field, and two of these will probably connect, later on, with our evangelistic work in this conference. A large number of students will be going into the canvassing field for the summer. Let us remember these young men and women, and pray that God will give them success in their labours.

By the time this issue of the WORKER is in the hands of our members, Big Week will be in the past. We trust that it has proved for all a successful campaign, and one full of rich experiences in seeking to help others. We would remind all our members, also our treasurers, that funds for the month of May must of necessity be in very promptly on account of our conference opening on Friday, June 3rd. We, therefore, invite all to make sure that their tithe and offerings are in the hands of their local treasurer not later than Sunday night, May 29th, and we would be glad if all treasurers would please send in their funds without fail on Monday, May 30th.

LOOKING forward to meeting a large proportion of our members at the forthcoming conference, and inviting you all to pray that it may be a time of great spiritual power and refreshing.

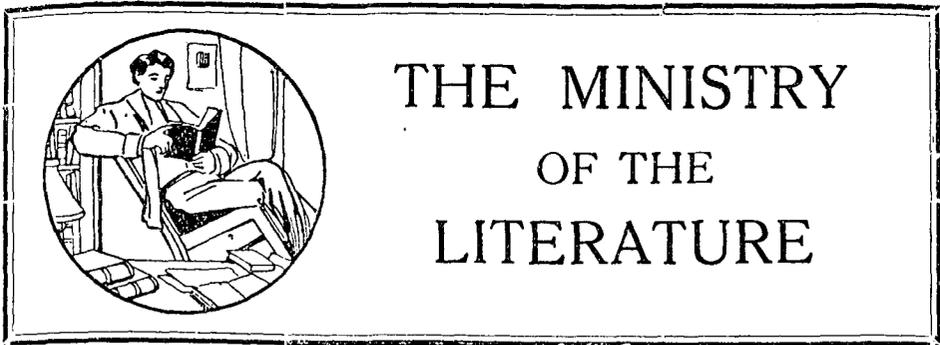

Sincerely your brother in service,
ALFRED E. BACON.

At Rest

PHILLIPS.—Deep sympathy in their sad bereavement is extended to Brother and Sister E. B. Phillips, who have recently returned from Africa on furlough. As the result of an accident their youngest child, a boy twenty-two months old, died in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, Rochester, on April 15th. The funeral was conducted from the home of Brother Phillips' parents in Gillingham, on April 21st. Little Norman was laid to rest in Chatham Cemetery, the service being conducted by the writer. J. McAVOY.

ENCELL.—On Monday, April 11th, we laid to rest our dear Sister Encell of the Leeds Church, of which she became a member three years ago, during the time of our effort in the Beeston area, and although 67 years of age, she was always a most energetic and live worker. Two sons and two daughters remain to mourn their loss. We sorrow not, however, as those that have no hope. We believe that, if faithful, we shall meet our dear sister on the resurrection morning. The funeral service was conducted by the writer, assisted by Brother J. West. E. E. CRAVEN.

BRAZIL.—Sister Elizabeth Brazil, age 80 years, passed peacefully away at the home of her daughter in Hackney, on February 25th. Our sister accepted the truth under the labours of Pastor Langford, and was baptized by Pastor S. G. Haughey about fourteen years ago. From that time onward she was a faithful member until the time of her death. She passed away trusting fully in Jesus, and was laid to rest in the Woodgrange Park Cemetery, to await the call of the Life-giver. The funeral service was conducted by Pastor H. W. Armstrong, assisted by the writer. D. MORRISON.

THE MINISTRY OF THE LITERATURE

The New Discounts for Magazine Workers

THESE new discounts are evidently going to be of substantial help to our workers. One worker has already added twenty-two shillings to his usual monthly income through this plan.

If you and the immediate members of your family can sell 1,500 copies of "Present Truth" in one month a settlement discount of £1. 5s. will be paid in addition to the usual discount. On "Good Health" you will receive £1. 7s. 6d. in addition. Smaller lots have also general discounts. We are determined to do all in our power to help those on whom the Lord is laying the burden of carrying the truth to the masses through the medium of the periodicals. Send to the Stanborough Press for further particulars.

The Price of "Our Little Friend"

SABBATH-SCHOOL secretaries should note that the price of "Our Little Friend" is 5/- post free here in England.

J. 2272

The English Sunday

THE article in "Present Truth" No. 10, entitled "The English Sunday", has awakened great interest among our people, and many letters of appreciation have been received. Our churches at Manchester, under the leadership of Pastor Hall, have ordered over 5,000 copies for use in their special campaign to show the public the truth on the Sabbath question.

"Looking Beyond" Now Out of Print

SINCE "Looking Beyond World Problems" was first published in 1923 one hundred thousand copies have been sold by our members. It is felt that the time is now ripe for another book of this class and Brother Maxwell hopes to have the manuscript ready in the course of a week or two. The title and the publishing date will be announced as soon as possible. One hundred copies of "Looking Beyond" are still available, but the book will not be reprinted and only single copies can be supplied.

Wants "Present Truth" Articles Written Out

ONE of our workers in the mission field writes: "During the past few weeks there has been a series of articles running in 'Present Truth' entitled, 'The World's Best Book', by Carlyle B. Haynes; these are just splendid and precisely what I want for my work out here. If you can get the complete series typed out for me and bound at the Press, so that I can have them in handy form for reference, I shall be glad. Of course, I will pay for the labour, etc."

Our readers will be glad to know that the articles have been reprinted in book form by our American publishing house, and can be obtained from us under the title of "The Bible; Is It a True Book", price 1/-.

Books Bring Success

DON'T forget that whether you are mother of a home, minister, colporteur, printer or farm-labourer, the right books will help you to make a success of your life-work.

Abraham Lincoln owed much of his success to reading. His mother taught him, and in early boyhood he read and re-read the books that were within his reach—the Bible, Pilgrim's Progress, Life of Washington, History of the United States and some other volumes. Later he read every book he could borrow from the neighbours.

He borrowed a grammar and studied the lessons, going to the local school-master for help in his difficulties. Later he began to read law and prepared himself in this way for the career which culminated in his presidency over the United States during the most difficult period of its history.

It is said that Napoleon had a library on wheels which accompanied him on all his great campaigns.

In the British Museum may be seen the portable library of one of the famous judges of Queen Elizabeth's reign. It contains dozens of volumes on varied subjects. The books are small, and the whole library case is not much greater than a large family Bible. But it gave its owner access at all times to a great reservoir of useful knowledge and was probably one of his most-prized possessions.

Much of Edison's success has come through reading books. All his life he has been a great reader. His mother was his teacher and greatly encouraged him.

He read the "History of England" and "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" before he reached his teens. There's an achievement for you! He even attempted Newton's "Principia".

His mother bought him a book on chemistry and subscribed to a scientific magazine for him. He took that magazine for 61 years. When he was eighteen he bought a complete set of Faraday's works.

Even now when preparing for some invention he makes it a practice to read, first of all, every worthwhile book on the subject.

In one of his great factories where he has 5,000 men at work he has a great library of business and scientific books.

And you must read, too. The Word of God, our own wonderful books, and books and magazines which will help you to become more proficient in the daily work which God has appointed you—reading these will do much to make your life a real success.

Try this Canvass for "Good Health"

HERE is another canvass for "Good Health" suggested by one of our workers. Try it next Sunday.

"Good morning! I have been calling on your neighbours in regard to our health work. There is always so much sickness about that we are issuing this magazine to show how you can avoid it, and keep well. I felt sure you would like this number. (Place it in the customer's hand.)

"'Good Health'—the magazine that keeps people well. (Point to title) There is a splendid article on — in this number which will really do you good to read.

"It will be sent to you for a whole year for 3/-, but, of course, you can buy just one copy for 3d. Thank you! Good morning."

(THE MISSIONARY WORKER is printed and published fortnightly by The Stanborough Press Ltd., Watford)

The Editor, Stanborough Press, Watford

Editor: A. S. MAXWELL.

Vol. 32. No. 10.

Copy for the next issue must reach us not later than Wednesday, May 25th

May 20, 1927.

As we go to press great preparations are in progress at the College for the "breaking up" festivities and the graduation exercises. These will be reported in the next issue, which will be our annual Education number.

WHEN these lines are read about thirty-six young people from the College will be out in the colporteur work in search of scholarships. We believe all have gone out with good courage, but we are sure they will be strengthened if they know that all our people are remembering them in prayer at this time. Let us think especially of those who are going out for the first time.

BUILDING has commenced on the new extension to Granose Foods Ltd. The foundations are in and the walls are rising. This addition—and the new Morris van in blue and gold—tell of increasing popularity and prosperity for the products of our health food factory.

PLANS for the Stanborough Park church are nearing completion. It is hoped that building will commence shortly. If, as expected, the church is completed by the end of the year, its dedication will be a fitting celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the arrival of Seventh-Day Adventists on Stanborough Park.

ALL our people will, we know, rejoice with Brother and Sister Baird on the arrival of another baby boy. Master Baird is enjoying his first glimpses of life immensely (and so is father!). Hearty congratulations!

Special Notice

PASTOR F. C. BAILEY wishes to know what are the prospects for a mass choir at the coming conference session at Hull. All choir leaders and isolated singers please communicate with him at once so that plans may be made. Please state if in possession of music suggested in his last circular letter, and what progress has been made in the way of rehearsals. Address all communications to Sylvan Dene, Woodside Avenue, Newburn-on-Tyne.

Stanborough College Mission Band

THE College students and members of the Stanborough Park church spent a very enjoyable evening on April 9th, when the European and Far East Mission Band presented a programme on India, in the College chapel.

Mr. W. L. Emmerson introduced the evening with a brief but comprehensive survey of the field, emphasizing the fact that while India presents to us a great problem, yet, as Christians, it offers us a unique challenge to go forward and attempt great things for God.

It was the object of the Band to give some idea of the work that is carried on at any one of our mission stations, and this was accomplished in five scenes. The first scene depicted the missionary engaged with a native teacher in translating the New Testament into the vernacular, that the people might have access to the Word of God. We were then shown something of the medical work done, and saw that, while the nurse was busy bandaging broken arms and bathing sores, she took the opportunity to tell something of the greater ministry of Christ.

During the day's happenings we were taken into a zenana where a young bride-to-be, while longing to escape from her position and become a Christian, had not the courage to break away from her caste. Also we saw the missionary engaged in conversation with an educated Mohammedan, who brought forward all possible arguments to show that the religion of the prophet was to be preferred before that of Jesus.

The last was an evening scene, and here the workers welcomed the "president" of the "Far East Division". As they gathered around they told him eagerly of the success they had had, emphasizing again and again the fact that they must have more men and money in order to cope with the calls and marvellous openings that came to them daily.

The leaders would like to take this opportunity of thanking publicly the members of the Band who took part for their enthusiastic support and ungrudging devotion of time which the presentation of such a programme necessarily entails.

DORIS A. CUMMING.
