

A NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENT

Harvest Ingathering Final Figures—£630 Increase

By J. HARKER

FOR several weeks we have been waiting for the last word on the Ingathering work for 1929 and now come the final figures. We had hoped to realize at least £8,000, but as the matter now stands, we are £125 short of this figure. The total, however, gives us an increase of £630 over the 1928 campaign. The standing of the conferences and missions is as follows:

Field	1928		1929		Increase
S Eng.	£3394	4 3	£3826	10 8	£432 6 5
N. Eng.	2537	6 9	2653	0 9	115 14 0
Wales	583	15 2	687	0 7	103 5 5
Scotland	468	16 9	390	10 8	†78 6 1
Ireland	261	17 1	318	11 10	56 14 9

† Decrease
In some fields the increases are very substantial. For example Ireland—the £56 increase there represents over 21 per cent of the total. And Wales, where so much poverty and unemployment abounds, shows an increase of over 17 per cent.

The South England increase is over 12 per cent. Sixty-two churches and companies have exceeded their goal of £2 per member. This list includes the following:

York, Gillingham, Dublin, Belfast, Stanborough Park, Cardiff, West London, Newport, Liverpool, Scarborough, Sheffield, Manchester North, Leicester, Stoke, Bradford, South Birmingham, South Stoke, Reading, Southampton, Luton, N.W. London, Forest Gate, Edgware, Croydon, Clapham, Croscombe, Bath, Dereham, Dorchester, Long Marston, Huddersfield, Dundee, Kirkcaldy, Barry Dock, Rhos, Gelligaer, Dowlais, Yarmouth, Ely, Exeter, Grays, High Wycombe, Kingston, Medstead, Romford, St. Mabyrn, Salisbury, Torquay, Bentham, Killamarsh, Ulceby, Sutton, Stockton, West Hartlepool, Skegness, Melton, Stourton, Middlesbrough, Bromsgrove, Lincoln, Burnley.

Gillingham and York stand out conspicuously with well over £5 for each member. Dublin, West London, Belfast, Edgware, Bradford, and Stoke represent another group, all having gone beyond £3 per member. Cardiff and Newport have struggled hard and in both cases have gone beyond their goal. Among the companies Long Marston, Huddersfield, Yarmouth, and High Wycombe top the list with per capita ranging from £5 to £18 per member. It would be impossible for us to pick out the places worthy of special mention, both from a standpoint of lack of space and inability to take into account all the factors which enter into the campaign work. We know that in every case the leaders and members have worked hard to realize their objectives. We wish to thank one and all for the hearty co-operation given in this campaign. All can be assured that "God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love." With the new year we turn our minds and activities to other lines of work. May we all ever be found doing the Master's will that finally we may receive His "well done."

More News from East Africa

The West Tanganyika Mission

THIS field used to be known as the Mwanza Mission, as our work has been carried on in the province of that name. The war severely handicapped the start which our German brethren had made. Since then some progress has been seen. In the northern section of the field are three stations. They are attempting to work among a large number of small tribes. These have their different dialects, which increases the difficulty of the task. For while the lingua franca of East Africa is used for school work, yet the vernacular is the only real way of reaching the people, especially the women. It is no small task for the missionary to master the many dialects in his area in this part of the field. Roads, the friend of the missionary, are now being built, and journeys which took over a month are now accomplished in a week, saving not only time but also the health of the worker, as he is able to avoid camping in unhealthy places.

IKIDZU

This is the present headquarters. From the beginning of the year Brother Ellingworth took charge of these missions. He has had long years of service in Nyasaland and this valuable experience will be of great help in bringing forward the West Tanganyika Mission. The Training School is also located here, with Miss Morgan in charge. As she has just returned from furlough this school will recommence with a new class of students in preparation for service. Brother Munderspach has charge of the local work. The Ikidzu people are not easy to win to Christ. The majority are quite content to trade cattle and marry wives. Eleven souls were baptized there this year.

UTIMBARU

This is a healthy station in the northern part of the province. There is a cool temperature and sufficient rainfall to grow vegetables, a thing which is denied other stations in this field. Brother Watson has built himself a creditable house and laid out part of the mission site, though the old German breastworks still remind one of what use this station was put to. There are many tribes in this area but work has been chiefly confined to the Luo, an infiltration of those living across the border in Kenya Colony. There are calls for schools from other tribes which will be answered as soon as some teachers are trained. A new church is being erected on the mission at the present time. Three persons were baptized this year and some others will be ready next month.

MAJITA

The Majita tribe live on a peninsula jutting out into Victoria Nyanza. The field is well worked with schools. Two canvassers have also been selling books. Brother Matthews is developing an encouraging work. The church membership is now 134. Eighteen were baptized this year. One teacher was sent over to Uganda and is doing good service there.

NTUSU AND MWAGALA

These two stations are a beginning among the great Wasukuma tribe, the largest in Tanganyika. While Brother Robson, at Ntusu, has had the training of the teachers for six months Brother Phillips, at Mwagala, has been doing evangelistic work. The work among the Wasukuma, started by teachers from Pare, gives promise of a large future. There is a growing church of 122 members at Ntusu. Thirty-three were added there this year and seven at Mwagala.

GIRLS' SCHOOL

A girls' school is being located at Ntusu. If money is sufficient, it is hoped to finish it before the end of the year. Miss Lucy Clarke will be in charge. The houses are built of sun-dried brick with a grass roof. The plan is to keep the girls as much in touch with their own home life as possible and not to Europeanize them. There is a dining-room, a store, and three sleeping rooms. All are separate buildings. The teachers, while at the station for further instruction, have been making and laying bricks for two hours each day. This has provided them with good practical instruction.

Throughout the field all the teachers have been called in for a six months' improvement course. Ability to teach is an essential part of their work. The Government has already set the educational standards. It is incumbent on us to produce men who measure up to the advancing educational standard in Africa to-day.

We anticipate a bright future for these missions as the teachers better understand their work and go forth filled with the spirit of consecrated service. Much remains to be done to enter the provinces to the south, but plans are being laid for opening up other stations in Southern Tanganyika, so that ere long this large section of Africa may hear the message for this time. North England Conference

President: Pastor W. T. Bartlett

Notes from the President

BROTHER A. V. WARD is shortly commencing a public effort in Derby. The Temperance Hall, familiar to many of us, has been secured, and we hope to see it filled with interested people.

BROTHER G. D. KING has been favoured in being granted the use of the Moseley Baths, following his course of lectures in a cinema. A series of mission lectures by returned missionaries, Brother King himself, the writer, and Brother E. A. Beavon, held the interest strongly over the holiday season.

I AM much enjoying my contact with the churches in North England, and am getting around to all as fast as possible. In spite of the financial stringency, which is for many a great hardship, I find the great majority full of courage.

AT the time of writing we do not know how the conference stands at the close of the year. It seems quite clear, however, that if we push ahead—as we shall—in 1930, it must be by faith, rather than by reason of a full exchequer. I would like to suggest to the rank and file that we work for advancement by making all our service of better quality than it has been before. If the evangelists preach better and more strongly, the pastors and Bible-workers watch more earnestly for souls, the elders and church officers give themselves more completely to their tasks, if the Sabbath-schools are marked by more thorough Bible study, the Lord will certainly pour His life more freely through all these agencies, and the work as a whole will be expanded and strengthened. It would be a grand thing, too, if every isolated member could by the heavenly energy double his or her efficiency.

SOME two million people in Great Britain are enduring the misery of wanting to work and not having the work to do. We are privileged in that our work is abundant enough to call every faculty into happy activity. W. T. BARTLETT.

Baptism at Sheffield

ON Wednesday, November 27, 1929, seven souls passed through the watery grave to start the new life, the service being conducted by Pastor Bartlett in the Woodseats Baptist Church, which was kindly lent to us for the occasion. These seven new members were admitted to the church on the following Sabbath, November 30th, by Pastor R. Whiteside, and to each he spoke words of encouragement and hope. Two others were admitted by vote, making nine souls in all, for which we thank the Lord. We rejoice, too, that we are to have another baptism shortly. M. MUSTOW, Church Clerk.

South England Conference

President: O. M. Dorland

Notes from the President

WE here at the office wish every member of the conference a prosperous New Year. We wish you physical and spiritual health. "The Lord bless thee and keep thee: The Lord make His face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee. The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace." "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

ON Sabbath, January 25th, it is planned to dedicate the new church building at Walthamstow with suitable services. We wish that all our people could see this new church building. It is a plain structure, yet commodious and comfortable. We hope to show you a photograph of the building in a future issue of the WORKER.

ON Thursday evening, January 16th, at 7:30 p.m., will begin a Church Officers' Convention for the London churches. This is to be held in the New Holloway Hall, Holloway Road. We trust that all church officers in London will endeavour to attend every one of the services. Meetings will be held on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, and all day Sabbath and Sunday. Help will be supplied by Brethren Meredith, Harker, and Maxwell.

ON January 5th, Pastor McCrow began an effort in Maidstone, Kent. Thus another unentered town is to hear the message for this time. We wish our brother every success in his pioneer work.

JANUARY 26th will see the launching of another campaign by Pastor D. Morrison at Thornton Heath. Miss Stone, who we are pleased to say has recovered from a long illness, will give assistance in this effort. Brother Gordon Davies will also associate with the work.

PASTOR W. J. YOUNG has secured a hall in Leigh-on-Sea and will begin an effort shortly.

WE ask your prayers on behalf of these and other efforts commencing in this first month of the year.

WE hope in the next issue of the WORKER to report the gain in membership and finances, that the believers may join with us in thanking the Lord for His mercies and blessings.

O. M. DORLAND.

Santa Claus in a Granose Van!

“MEET us at Newport Station at 12.30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 18th, and bring Pastor Cooper with you without letting him into our secret!”

Such was the cryptic kind of message he sent us. Accordingly, a silently wondering Pastor Cooper and the writer presented themselves at the appointed time and place. Santa Claus had a mate who, with commendable zeal, had helped him to fly from Watford at such speed that they were one hour ahead of schedule time, so the mate employed himself with sleep till our arrival. Our presence galvanized the good old men and their vehicle into instant activity. Handing a packet of thoughtfully and kindly worded letters to Pastor Cooper, they bade us lead them to the homes of many families in need of a little Christmas good cheer (and fare!). So, to the purr of engines, off we went. With right good spirit and beaming faces did Santa and his mate leave such welcome commodities as pudding, cake, Granose, potatoes, and general provisions in varying quantities at many homes in Newport, Cardiff, and Swansea. The pleasurable expressions on the distributors' countenances were good to behold, and doubtless these gracious acts did them more good than anything they have undertaken for a long time.

When Brother Osborne, the manager of Granose Foods Ltd. responded to our appeal to the British Union Committee, we did not imagine that he would ever appear in person with Brother Norris, his works manager, to give such splendid help as this. His good wife was responsible for the puddings sent. The employees of the factory entered enthusiastically into the plan and sent a cake to each family, as well as a cheque for six pounds for our Distress Fund.

The Stanborough Press has also sent a cheque for five pounds, and the European Division Committee has promised good assistance.

With this and other assistance from private persons, we have been able to distribute clothing, small sums of money, or food parcels to various families in our field. To all who have helped we send sincere thanks in the name of the Welsh Mission.

THE sad word has just reached us that Brother Thomas Morris, of Henllan, passed away ten days before Christmas, after an operation. An obituary notice will appear in due course, but we here express our sorrow at the loss of so staunch an Adventist, whose witness has been unflinching through the years.

PASTOR BIRD commenced his first Sabbath service in the north with such a good attendance that strong expectations of abundantly answered prayers for new souls fill our hearts. Pray on, brethren throughout the field! Work on, Brother Bird and co-workers. We are with you, and God is over all!

Aberdeen's Resolve

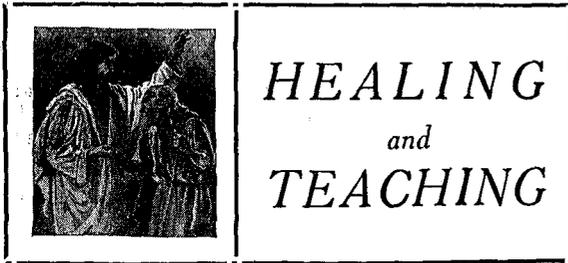

THE Aberdeen members and interested friends learned with great surprise and sincere regret the news that Brother and Sister Madgwick had been called to labour in the North England Conference. Although it is scarcely eleven months since Brother and Sister Madgwick and Sister Handysides came to pioneer the work in the Granite City, the new members have joined the Advent family with encouraging enthusiasm and feelings of whole-hearted fellowship.

This fellowship was seen very clearly on Wednesday night, December 18, 1929, when after our usual prayer meeting, tokens of esteem and appreciation were presented on behalf of the members to Brother and Sister Madgwick on their preparing to leave for Blackburn. Sister Handysides likewise was given a reminder of her stay in Aberdeen where her services have been much valued.

It was expressed by one member that the best way we could show our gratitude to the Lord for sending Brother and Sister Madgwick and Sister Handysides with His truth would be to resolve to let our light shine and do all we can to build up a good strong church here in Aberdeen.

"The medical missionary work is the door of access to our large cities."—E. G. White.

The Year's Programme at Stanborough Park

STANBOROUGH PARK CHURCH is planning to go ahead this year on the lines of the programme suggested in the previous issue of the MISSIONARY WORKER. A first-class lecture on "Treating Home Emergencies" was arranged for January 7th, with Dr. Aufranc as the lecturer and Nurse Clifford the demonstrator. This is really practical knowledge which will be valuable to all.

Health Lecture in Living Pictures

THE New Health Society is offering for hire a film which should draw a good crowd for a Good Health League meeting. There are four reels, and the length of the film is 3,300 feet.

The first two reels show the work being conducted by the Public Health Authorities and the last two show how the individual can co-operate in his own habits. The emphasis is laid on fresh air, sunshine, rest, recreation, cleanliness, good food, and cheerfulness.

The fee for hiring the film for one showing is two guineas. Lantern operator or lecturer can be hired at an additional fee.

Hand Out the Health Tracts

At the close of your League meetings hand out the appropriate health leaflets. The four new two-colour tracts are especially suitable for this purpose. Exercise, Diet, Water, Air—valuable information on these health factors is given in a nutshell. Only a farthing each if you order a hundred, but each may be worth pounds to someone at your meeting.

The February "Good Health" Now Ready

THE January number of Good Health is sold out and the February issue should now be ordered. It contains valuable information on increasing one's physical powers and on improving one's personal appearance; shows how to begin vegetarianism; explains the value of nature treatment, and gives much light on the cause of rheumatism. Price 3d.

You will do good work by circulating Good Health in your neighbourhood. More agents wanted.

Nurse Appreciates Colporteur's Work

"I WAS greatly cheered when a nurse said how pleased she was that I was engaged in such a good work. She felt Health and Happiness and Mother's Guide were the very books that ought to be in every home."

Notice

IN connection with the forthcoming Colporteurs' Institute a sacred cantata entitled "The Two Advents," by George Garrett, M.A., Mus. D., F.R.C.O., will be rendered in the Stanborough Park Church by the church choir on Sunday, January 26th, at 6.30 p.m.

Pastor C. E. Weeks will deliver an appropriate address and a silver collection will be taken on behalf of the choir funds.

Canvasses Veiled Woman Through Spiked Grating

I AM always looking for fresh experiences and I got into a convent the other day. I hoped to get an order.

Having got inside the courtyard, I tapped gingerly at a door and was presently answered by a heavily robed lady. I asked to be taken to the Mother Superior.

The lady questioned me closely and after I had satisfied her, she went away and came back leaving me in doubt as to whether I could see the Mother Superior. I was very insistent, and after a further inquiry the lady took some keys from a nail on the wall and told me that the Mother would see me now. "At least," she said, "you can't see her but you can hear her, you talk to her through a grill."

I was escorted across the courtyard up a flight of stairs and a room was unlocked to receive me. The place was unadorned except for my presence and two chairs. A stone was placed in front of a large grill with spikes jutting from it. The lady left me here alone.

I waited for a long time during which period it struck me to get up and examine the lock of the door. If that door had been locked I should have had difficulty in letting my wife know where I was.

However, I heard some more keys rattle and sounds of feet, and soon the grill door rolled back, revealing an equally bare room. A form approached the grill and addressed me as Mr. Kin-man (accent on the "man"). Her face was heavily veiled. She went on her knees on the bare floor and I proceeded with my business.

The form (I presume a lady) told me she was not the Mother, but her deputy. I tried hard to get my prospectus (I did not chance Bible Readings but Christ Our Saviour) to the Mother Superior, but without success. The form told me that they were only a poor community and could not afford to buy, otherwise they would like it very much. I wished I could have seen the face of the form. If it was in keeping with her voice she must have been a beautiful character. I enjoyed talking with her, but could not concentrate very much, I was so interested in the surroundings. I especially wondered what the spikes on the grill meant, and why the lady should go on her knees to me.

At Rest

HENDRICKSON—David Hendrickson, eldest son of Brother Hendrickson of the Cardiff Church, passed into rest on December 3, 1929, at the age of 16 years. A sudden onset of meningitis left no hope of his ever facing life's struggles whole again. We laid him to rest in Cardiff Cemetery on December 6th, in the name of Him Who loved little children.

H. W. LOWE

GREEN.—Sister Margaret Green died at the home of her son at Plymouth on November 27, 1929, at the ripe age of eighty-two. She was baptized in 1893, and became a charter member of the Plymouth Church. Since the death of her husband, fourteen years ago, Sister Green has lived first at Bristol and then at Grimsby, and was a member of the latter church at the time of her death. She returned to Plymouth a few weeks ago to reside with her son. Her final illness was very brief, but though called suddenly to her rest, our sister was fully prepared, and sleeps in the certainty of a blessed awakening. Although Sister Green had only returned to Plymouth a short time before her death, she was loved by all, and a number of her friends gathered in our church at Plymouth for the funeral service, which was conducted by the writer. The interment took place at Plymouth Old Cemetery.

L. E. A. LANE.

BOON.—Sister Boon, of Modbury, Devon, fell asleep on December 1, 1929, age seventy-five. At the time of her death Sister Boon was staying with her son at Plymstock, near Plymouth. Sister Boon joined the Plymouth Church in 1906, and remained a faithful member till her death. Our sister was a faithful witness to the truth at all times, and to those who visited her just prior to her death she expressed her faith and confidence in God, and her assurance of a part in the first resurrection. A brief service was held at the home of her son, after which Sister Boon was laid to rest in the Parish Churchyard at Modbury, about fourteen miles from Plymouth. A large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the graveside, where the writer conducted the service by kind permission of the vicar.

L. E. A. LANE.

MCCALLUM—Mrs. McCullum passed away after a brief illness and was buried in the City Cemetery, Belfast, the Rev. W. Gregg and the writer officiating. Sister McCullum accepted the message under Pastor J. J. Gillatt's ministry many years ago.

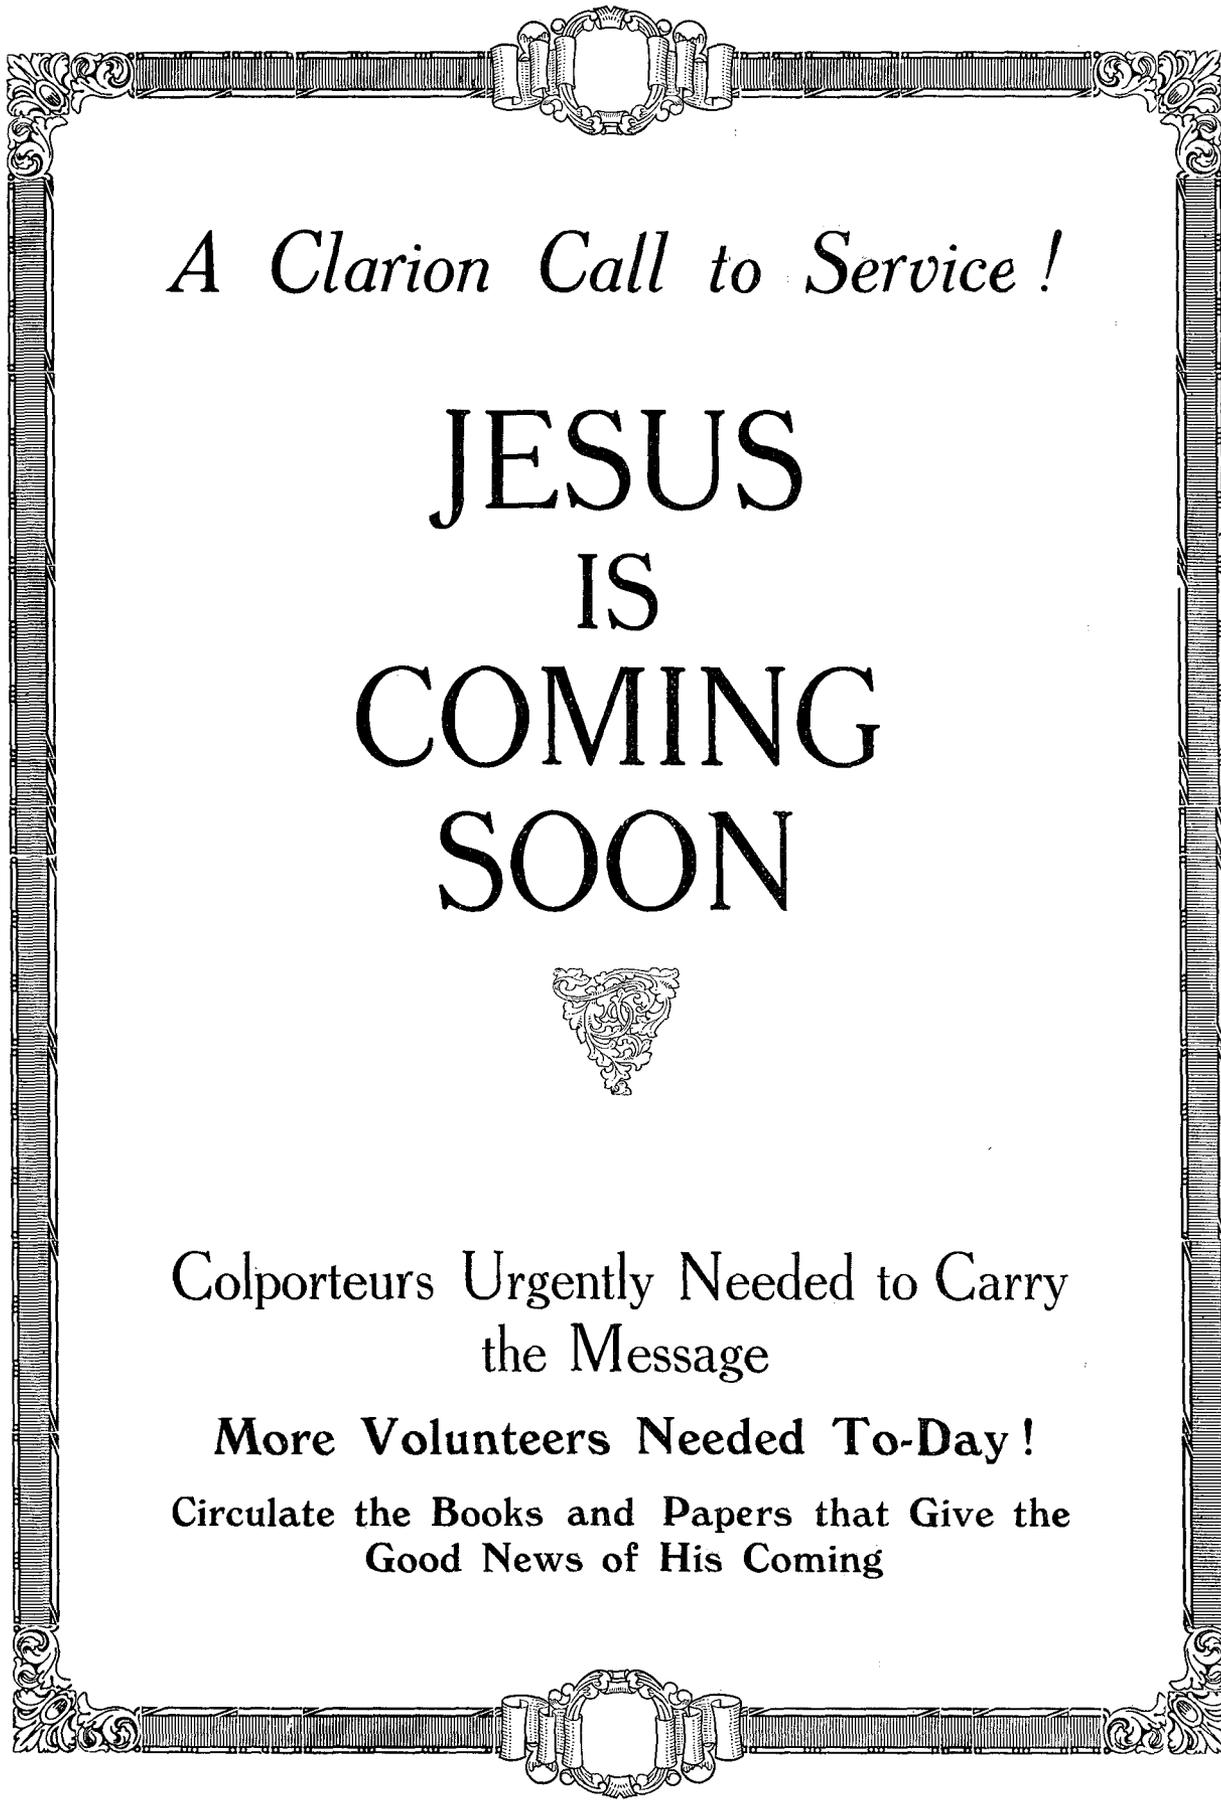

G. HYDE.

HOSKING.—It is with heartfelt sorrow that we have to announce the death of Sister Hosking. After eight years of patient suffering she collapsed on December 8, 1929, and quietly passed away in the early hours of Wednesday morning, December 11th. Sister Hosking has been a servant of the Good Shepherd and a member of the Kettering Church for twenty-seven years. Her kindly and self-sacrificing nature made her an unusually large number of friends, who loved her very dearly. Her home was always open to anyone in need, and Sister Hosking lost no time in trying to supply that need, whatever it might be. It was a very sad company that made its way to the little chapel in the Kettering Cemetery, where Pastor A. K. Armstrong conducted a short but very comforting service, again reminding us that we sorrow, not without hope. We also sang her favourite hymn, "Abide with me." Many friends and relatives gathered at the graveside. Brother Hosking, two sons, and two daughters are left to mourn their loss. To them we extend our warmest sympathy.

L. M. PORCH, Clerk.

SHIELLS.—We deeply regret to announce the death of dear Sister M. Shiells of the Kilmoyle company. She accepted the truth in 1907 under the labours of Pastors Mussen and Whiteside, and remained faithful and true until the end. She went to rest in Jesus on November 27, 1929, aged 56. An aged brother, two sisters, and the Kilmoyle company are sorrowing because of this loss and yet believe in the hope and joy of the resurrection at the glorious return of our Lord. A large company of farming friends and neighbours filled the farm-house kitchen and extended out into the farm-yard as we spoke a word for truth and comfort before departing for the four miles' country walk to the cemetery. It was a bleak November day, but we trust the blessing of God was felt by many.

A Stock of Good Selling Points Will Arouse Interest

IN endeavouring to obtain regular readers for Present Truth our members will often wish they had a larger number of selling points on the tip of the tongue. It is a good plan to press home first the value of some special article in the number you are offering; but bring out some of the following if there is any hesitation in purchasing:

1. About 25,000 people are buying this magazine now.
2. It is edited by A. S. Maxwell, the author of Bedtime Stories. He has two special pages for the children in this number.
3. It has plenty of pictures and it is well printed.
4. It is one of the cleanest papers published.
5. It is easy to read, not too big, no useless padding.
6. It has two pages specially for mothers.
7. Your neighbours have just been buying copies (if this is so) and Mrs. Black and Mrs. Jones want it every fortnight (if this is so).
8. It has a competition and two prizes for the children every issue. Little Robert Jones won the prize this time.
9. There is a "Sunbeam" Band for the children to teach them to be kind and helpful. It has nearly 800 members now.

Other good selling points will come to your mind as you study Present Truth carefully and will help you to secure new readers. Pass them on also to your regular readers to keep their interest alive. Mention them in letters to friends who are reading the paper. God will bless your efforts.
