

DURING the closing days of April the members of the Union committee came together to give study to a number of important matters pertaining to the work throughout the field. Several weeks have passed since the quadrennial meeting in London convened and it became necessary to call a meeting of the full committee so as to have the best and fullest counsel possible on the problems which were up for consideration.

In the opening meeting we were made conscious of the presence of the Lord, and as the days went by this conviction deepened, and we certainly felt that our heavenly Father came to our help and blessed us as we sought Him for wisdom to know how to plan aright for His work.

OUR APPROPRIATIONS

One question which was not on the agenda at the time the council opened called for a good deal of study. It was brought to us on the second day of our meeting. Word came from the Division office that our appropriation for this year would be cut by another eight per cent. It will be recalled that the appropriation we received for this year was six per cent less than in 1931. Now, in addition to this, there is this extra cut of eight per cent, and that on the whole year, not merely for the remaining eight months. We have been operating thus far this year in our conferences and mission fields on the grant, less six per cent, and so this new decision of the Division called for careful study to know what we should do in arranging for the work in the field with a much lower appropriation than we expected at the beginning of the year.

We have all read in the daily papers of the peculiar situation obtaining in America at this time. Many banks have been closed down and millions of people are out of work. Not having any organized plan for caring for the unemployed, it means that large numbers of men and women as well as children are on the verge of starvation. This economic crisis has naturally affected the income of our believers, and consequently both the tithes and offerings show a marked decrease. This situation, however, is not at all confined to the other side of the Atlantic; it obtains all over the world.

As the General Conference came to the time of the Spring Council, they were faced with a large shortage in their mission funds, and it was evident that they were not able to give to the various Divisions the appropriations voted at the last Autumn Council. Hence they expected to make a further cut. The Division having received word concerning this, took action so far as all the fields in its territory are concerned, that they would be cut eight per cent more in their appropriations for this year. Our sister unions and mission fields in the Division are sharing with us in this cut. Consequently we shall receive our grant, but eight per cent less than we thought we should get when we planned our budget for this year.

As we gave study to this on our committee it became evident to us all that very definite action would be necessary if we were to balance our budgets. One thing is certain and that is we must live within our income. We must not plan to spend more than we receive, otherwise we would get into debt and this is not wise. We had no reserves on which to draw, and so the only course to take was to study how to reduce our expenses so that they would not exceed our income. There were at least four ways open to us.

1. To increase our tithes and offerings.
2. To ask some of our workers to retire from the work.
3. To arrange for some workers to spend from three to six months of the year in the colporteur work.
4. To make another cut in salaries.

As to the first consideration it was felt that much might be done to increase our income if all our believers would bring in a faithful tithe to the Lord's treasury. On such faithfulness the God of heaven bestows His rich blessing. He Himself says:

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, . . .

and prove Me now herewith, . . . if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10.

In view of the fact that we have so many interests in the field just now the brethren felt that we should keep as many as possible of our workers actively engaged in the work. Hence it was thought that whatever was done, we should seek to retain our present force of labourers if at all possible.

The only other way, then, was to adopt the fourth consideration. The General Conference and also the Division have already taken action to reduce salaries, and so after careful study it was decided to reduce all salaries and wages another five per cent as from May 1st. A reduction of seven per cent was made on January 1st, but this is another cut and affects all our workers in all parts of the field, whether they be in conference or mission field employ, or are engaged in various lines of work in our institutions. We believe they will cheerfully join with us in this endeavour to meet the problems of the hour.

The times to which we have come are certainly difficult but after all they are in the order of God. We need not be surprised and certainly we should not be discouraged. God calls His people to face such a situation with courage and confidence in Him. His work will go forward even though difficulties abound. We must learn how to carry forward the work of God in such a time as this with increasing success. Think of the counsel the servant of God gave to this people several years ago:

"The work which we failed to do in a time of peace and safety we must do in a time of perplexity under distressing circumstances."

EMPLOYMENT PLANS

Consideration was given also to the many church-members who at the present time are on the unemployed list. The Stanborough Press is working out some plans whereby special offers are being made to all in the sale of our health magazine, Good Health. Then again the Granose Foods Company has a plan of advertising, which when put into operation will enlist many of our believers in the work of promoting the sale of our health food products. Furthermore, in these days when it is anything but easy to secure employment in the world, one door is always open to many of our brethren and sisters, and that is our colporteur work. This is the "ever open door." The committee invites you to enter its portals and join hand in hand with the faithful band of colporteur-evangelists who are seeking to scatter our literature "like the leaves of autumn."

"PRESENT TRUTH" LISTS

It was felt also that we should endeavour to do again what was done many years ago, and that is, build up regular lists of Present Truth readers. The fortnightly visits of our missionary paper to the same homes month after month, and year after year, will result in souls being won to this blessed truth. We should give study to this in our churches, and in this way seek to increase the sale of this journal which comes off the press every two weeks.

SABBATH-SCHOOL LESSON QUARTERLIES

You will be glad to know that we shall soon be printing the Sabbath-school lesson pamphlets we need in this field at our own publishing house at Watford. This was brought about as the result of negotiation with the General Conference some time ago. The plan will go into effect with the quarterlies for the last quarter of the year.

CHURCH BUILDING POLICY

Some time was spent by a special committee in developing a church building policy for the Union, and before long this will be published so that all our churches who contemplate erecting places of worship will know the plan to which we expect to work in granting special help financially.

There is certainly a great need of many more monuments like those we have in several centres already, but we must move carefully and not get into a situation where we have a heavy load of debt on our hands.

IRELAND

When thinking of the work in Ireland it was decided to make two missions instead of one. These will be known as the North Irish Mission and the Free State Mission. Some changes are in mind so far as the workers in the Free State are concerned and we expect to be able to announce more about this a little later on.

EVANGELISM

A very important matter which came up for study was the question of evangelism. This, after all, is the most important feature of our work; in fact it is the work. This is our business, and every conference, every mission, every institution, every department, every activity, whether medical, publishing, or otherwise is but a means to this end. Whatever we do in this cause should be towards this great objective—the winning of souls to Christ. In addition to the regular plan of evangelism, such as public meetings in our cities and Bible studies by our evangelists and lady Bible-workers, we gave study to the question of cottage meetings.

If all our conference workers could conduct from two to four cottage meetings each week, we should be brought in touch with large numbers of people to whom the message for this time could be proclaimed. Furthermore, this is one of the most economical methods of carrying forward the message. There is no advertising expense, no large hall charges, and the congregations being small, are brought into very close contact with the speaker. We should like to see also many of the brethren and sisters in our churches take hold of this line of work, and under the direction of their respective church committees launch out in definite soul-winning work for the Master. We long to see the time when hundreds of our churchmembers will be giving Bible readings to their neighbours and friends. God has called us to be witnesses for Him, and the work will be finished not by the ministry only, but by the active co-operation of all our churchmembers. The united, earnest efforts of all, coupled with consecrated zeal and devotion, will, under God, bring large results in souls for His everlasting kingdom.

Notes from the Union President

MOST of the removals necessitated by the changes recommended at the time of the Union session last March have been effected. But two have yet to be put into operation and we expect that in May the brethren involved will be in their new places of labour.

PASTOR W. H. MEREDITH, who has given so many years of faithful service to the cause of God in the British Isles, and who served so efficiently as Union president for several years, has located in Southampton. I know we shall all pray earnestly that God may bless him, that he may soon be fully restored to health and strength, so as to be able again to take his place with us all in the finishing of the work in these islands.

PASTOR H. W. LOWE, who is our departmental secretary in the Union, moved from Cardiff early in April and is now "at home" at Stanborough Park.

PASTOR F. W. GOODALL is departmental secretary of the North England Conference, and moved from Watford recently to locate in Nottingham.

BROTHER J. HOWARD, who for several years cared for the departmental interests in North England, has moved to the South and expects soon to find a suitable house in the South England Conference territory.

PASTOR W. MAUDSLEY, for many years the leader of our constituency in Scotland, expects to move to Leicester during the month of May.

PASTOR S. G. JOYCE, after giving a number of years of faithful service in Ireland amid many difficulties, will soon cross the Channel to Scotland. It has been arranged for him to locate in Aberdeen in the northern part of "bonnie Scotland."

REMEMBER the dates of the annual meetings which have been planned in the various conferences and mission fields this year:

- Irish Mission June 30th to July 2nd
- Welsh Mission July 7th to 10th
- South England Conference ... July 13th to 18th
- N. E. Conference..... July 28th to August 2nd
- Scottish Mission August 25th to 28th

WE have received word from the Northern European Division that we can expect to have with us at all our conferences this year Pastor I. H. Evans from the General Conference, and Professor H. L.

Rudy, the Educational and Home Missionary Secretary of the Northern European Division. We feel sure that God will abundantly bless their ministry to us.

A Message to Our Young People and Young People's Leaders

THE instruction which was given Timothy by the learned Paul is well worthy of study by all our young people. "Till I come," he said, "give attendance to reading." 1 Tim. 4:13.

Christ is looking for young men and women to-day who, like Paul, will give time to reading, and to this end I am writing to ask that you give some special thought and prayer to the means that God has placed in our hands in providing our children and young people with papers and books which will have an uplifting influence in their lives.

The enemy of all souls is very busy placing before the youth to-day books which will bring them down to the lowest depths of sin and degradation, books which ridicule all that is pure and holy in the individual life, in the home, and in the national life, papers and books which hold up the breaking of the most sacred ties of home as a virtue and so blast many a promising young life. I feel that I cannot speak too strongly upon this matter, knowing that you will understand and do all you can to counteract this evil. Only a few days ago it was my sad lot to find one of our promising young people reading some of the most awful trash. Leaders and parents, guard well the feet of inexperience! The books that we read either help or hinder. The seed dropped to-day will surely yield its fruit in due season. Little things are mighty—the stately oak was once a tiny acorn.

God must guide in the little things, if He is to rule in all the affairs of life. The trend of many a life for good or ill, for success or failure, has been determined by a single book. We can no more escape the influence of what we read than we can escape the influence of the air we breathe. This helpful word comes from the servant of the Lord directly on this question:

“Young men and young women, read the literature that will give you true knowledge, and that will be a help to the entire family. Say firmly, ‘I will not spend precious moments in reading that which will be of no profit to me, and which only unfits me to be of service to others. I will devote my time and thoughts to acquiring a fitness for God’s service.’”—Testimonies, Vol. 7, page 64.

Much time is spent each year in searching for and reading books which will be a help to our young people and these are recommended each year to our youth as the Reading Course books, and I can confidently say that those provided this year are of great value. Here is the complete list:

CHILDREN

Insect Folk at Home.	1/6
Wonderful Railways	1/-

JUNIOR

An Apostle to the Marshes	2/-
Electricity as a Messenger	1/6
Stories of Animal Life	1/6

The Sound of a Going in the City of Salisbury

SOME good news of the battle for truth around “Salisbury Plain” might be acceptable to the WORKER family. We “opened fire” on October 25, 1931, and it was not long before some “missiles” were hurled at us from four different pulpits! Of these we were not afraid.

The attendance, from the first meeting, was not large, the average being about 120. However, this gave us good opportunity for real, personal work and we were encouraged as we found souls being definitely helped and renewing their consecration to God.

When we presented the Sabbath, under the title of “The Missing Link—Found!” over a hundred people were present. It came as a great shock to many, but we are glad to say some are responding to the call. One earnest soul was absolutely staggered after hearing the Sabbath truth and went home determined, in her heart, to reject it. After wrestling till midnight, she decided to ask God to show her positively from His Word whether the message she had heard was from Him. Her Bible opened to Deuteronomy 18:17-19. Straightway, she made her decision to obey God at all costs. The following week she resigned membership from the Christadelphian body and is rejoicing in the freedom of the truth.

Eight new people met with us at the first public Sabbath meeting held in Salisbury and the number, so far, has increased to fourteen.

We have received quite a number of very encouraging letters from those to whom we have sent literature by post, and we have evidence of the printed page carrying the truth with convicting power where we could not go.

One local newspaper has given quite a good report of every meeting, thus carrying the witness of the truth to its five thousand readers week by week. We feel God has led in this. We have appreciated greatly the generous help afforded us by the Bournemouth Church in ushers and soloists, also the prayers of all who have remembered us, constantly, at the throne of grace. We look forward to the time when we all shall share together in the harvest of souls.

The prayers of the WORKER family are earnestly requested that we may soon see the erection of a monument to God’s truth in this cathedral city of Salisbury.

Portsmouth and Southampton

SABBATH, April 9th, was a day of special interest to the members of the Southampton Church. Pastor J. B. West, who is in charge of the work in Portsmouth, took the morning service, his subject being, “Fruit Bearing.” In the afternoon a baptismal service was conducted by Pastor F. A. Spearling. It was a great joy to us all to witness the immersion of six precious souls and to welcome them into church fellowship.

Three of these have united with the Portsmouth Church and the other three have become members at Southampton. We earnestly pray that these dear ones will prove true to the end, and that we all may be found faithful when Jesus comes.

Baptism at Plymouth

ON Sunday evening, March 20th, the hearts of the Plymouth believers were rejoiced as six dear souls passed triumphantly through the waters of baptism to live the life of victory through the keeping power of Christ our Saviour. The group was composed of two ladies and four gentlemen. The service, which was held in our own church building, was one that will live long in the memory of all present. We were ably assisted in the service by a strong corps of trusted church officers and by Pastor G. W. Lindsay of the Northern European Division of the General Conference, whose presence and help were an inspiring uplift to all. These new believers were received into church fellowship on Sabbath, March 26th.

At the close of the baptismal service on Sunday we assembled in the lecture hall of the church to bid God-speed to Sister Eva Hyde who leaves Plymouth after six years of strenuous work as head mistress of our church school. In addition Miss Hyde has served the church in various capacities, and we shall sorely miss her from our midst. Presentations were made to Miss Hyde by the church, by the young people's society, which she has ably led for the past three years, and by the church school scholars.

May the Lord bless Brother and Sister Cooke in their united efforts with still greater success.

Why Be Unemployed?

Criticism

HAVE you ever considered just how much criticism is wasted? Every day we live there are millions of people finding fault with millions of things. We all do it. Something big or small does not reach our expectations whether for strength or utility, and we find fault with it. But in only the most rare of instances does one find anything come of criticism in the way of improvement.

When the marksmen highly skilled in the use of the rifle gather at Bisley to shoot for the King's Prize, it is the greatest event in the year for them. Not only is the prize valuable, but the honour of being "King's Marksmen" is greatly coveted. To hit the "bull's eye," time after time, at a thousand yards' range means that marksmanship has to be allied with opportunity and supreme coolness. Opportunity to seize the chance to fire when the wind drops, and coolness to remain steady through the unnerving seconds while your opponent fires, and to be calmly ready with a steady nerve when it is your time again.

So it is with criticism, these qualities are just as necessary if criticism is to be effective. Sometimes the criticism falls on a person, a thing, or an institution, and each may remain intractable, but we can always ask: "When I apply this criticism to myself does it leave me in the down balance or the up?"

In the last analysis it may possibly be found that men have risen to greatness because they made personally applied criticism a practical device in their own lives, applying constantly this measuring rod to every activity, discontinuing the bad and fostering, with great care, the good.

For some little time, now, this Business Institution has had to deal with a proposition that necessitated a vast amount of criticism, tearing down to build the more securely. We were approached by a well-known Association and requested to put on the market a very important health and dietetic food. Then the Research Department had to get busy. Ingredients had to be tested to ensure getting the purest and best. These had to be carefully blended and arranged quantitatively until the food was perfectly balanced.

This was only accomplished by hours of testing and exacting criticism. Nothing but the best would do, and the best we set ourselves to evolve. Then there was an important factor to decide upon—the flavour. Much of the usefulness of the food would have been undone if it had been unpalatable. Sample after sample, fresh from the experimental manufacturing room, was received, criticized, thrown on one side as not quite right; until finally the product was adjudged as satisfactory in every respect for the purpose for which it is intended.

When plans are formulated for marketing a new product many serious questions have to be answered, many difficulties overcome. Effort and capital must be expended in creating a new and not yet certain demand. We need to have foresight and confidence for a sufficiently long period to enable us to judge results.

We are satisfied that this new product is a good product and hope it will receive a hearty welcome from the public.

In a future article in this column, which deals with the principles and policies of GRANOSE FOODS LTD, we will deal more fully with the article, what it is, its health-giving properties, and trade name. G.F.L.
