Success or Failure?

By The Editor

OUR hospital at Stanborough Park has been in operation now for well over six months, and our people everywhere are no doubt wondering how it has been progressing. Then there is the Medical Aid Plan, in connection with which such a splendid offering was made early this year, how is that working? Are our people taking advantage of the opportunity provided by the new Medical Aid Fund to go to our own hospital? And, when they go, what do they think of it?

These are all perfectly proper questions, and it is all the more important that they should be answered just now, because on October 13th, next Sabbath morning, the second collection for the Medical Aid Fund is to be taken up.

When I was asked to write this article for the MISSIONARY WORKER, naturally all these questions floated through my mind, and I determined to find the answer to the last question first. After all, I thought, the answer to that might answer all the others. And it did.

First of all I found that from the opening of the hospital to the end of August, no less than fifty-nine Seventh-Day Adventists had visited the hospital as patients. This is by far the greatest number of our people who have come to our medical institution on Stanborough Park in any six months. So far, so good. But were these good people satisfied? What sort of report were they taking back to their churches? Would their experience lead others to desire to come—or make them more determined to stay away?

Well, I thought, it is better to know the truth in any case, favourable or unfavourable. So I decided to write a personal letter to every Adventist who had been a patient in the hospital, asking for a perfectly frank expression of their opinion.

Having had some experience of writing to our people for such "expressions of opinion" I must confess that I expected not more than half a dozen replies to my forty-four letters. Imagine my surprise, therefore, when letters began to come in by every post.

What did they say? To my great joy (and relief!) every one spoke in the most glowing terms of their stay in The Stanboroughs Hospital. Doctors, manager, matron, nurses, the food supply, the beds, the cleanliness, the quietness, the Christian spirit—everything and everybody came in for some meed of praise. Really, I hesitated to send them on to the superintendent and his staff for fear of making them blush with pride.

But I can't keep it all to myself, and so I am letting you read a few of the paragraphs taken at random from the letters so that you may realize how greatly the hospital has been appreciated:

The First Patient

"I was the first patient to sleep in The Stanboroughs Hospital, and I certainly feel I owe a debt of gratitude for all the kind attention received while there. Having recovered from a severe operation I can testify to the skill and kindness of the doctors and of the real interest they showed in my case. Also our good matron and the nurses were kindness itself."

—Miss M Holding

The Stanboroughs Hospital

Walked Again

"I am glad to express my appreciation of the benefit I received at The Stanboroughs. I was suffering from arthritis and was in much pain and unable to walk. I stayed one month, and before leaving I could walk up and down stairs alone. I am thankful to say that the benefit received has been lasting and I am still progressing.

"Everyone treated me with the greatest kindness and I was very happy and very much at home there."—Mrs A M Lane

Health Restored

"I really must thank one and all for the wonderful love and kindness shown me during my three weeks' stay at the Annexe. I thank God for all things, and above all for my health which has been again restored to me."—Mrs. K. L. Robson.

Every Attention

"I am very pleased to be able to testify to the benefits I received at the hospital. The first thing that impressed me was the warm reception. The whole staff from the doctor down gave me every attention. My heart is with this new scheme, which I believe is of God"—Mrs. Ellen King

A Great Experience

"After X-rays and a thorough examination, the doctor decided it was necessary to operate on me. When the day came he sought the guidance and blessing of the Great Physician and all went marvellously well. I was never left for a moment night and day and I cannot express my gratitude for the loving and gentle touch of those dear nurses and the matron. Every moment they were soothing away pain and helping with some kind of nourishment to bring back strength. Really, if I were to write hours I could not convey to you my delight and pleasure to hear the doctor say a few days later: 'Mrs Garstang, you are past the danger zone.' It was a great experience and full of blessings."—Mrs E Garstang.

The Doctor's Twinkle

"I was treated very kindly by all from the youngest to the oldest in the hospital. The doctor would come round every morning with the usual twinkle in his eyes and also the kindly matron and nurses with their cheery, 'Well, how are you this morning?' There was Christian love all through the hospital. It was a home from home."—Mrs H. Marsh.

Not in the Way

"I wish I could make you feel the atmosphere of our hospital as it is felt by one who is very ill. The regular tonic of the doctor's cheery visits; the sense of absolute peace and grateful content which comes from matron's loving touch and look; the consciousness that one is not in the way at all and not the least bit of trouble, which is conveyed by every action and smile of the bright-faced nurses, who do not seem to mind doing anything in the world, if it will only make one more comfortable and happy; and through and around it all the feeling of 'Home'.

"Now I feel in a very real sense that the hospital and sanitarium belong to me, as a churchmember, and it will be alike my pleasure and duty to do any little thing which may lie in my power to help forward the work there."—Miss Pennington-Beer.

Felt Quite Safe

"My operation was rather a trying one, but I knew all the doctors and nurses were doing their utmost for me and I felt quite safe in their hands. I had every care and kindness shown toward me. I shall never forget the happy time I had there and could safely recommend any one to go to The Stanboroughs. I know of no other hospital where so much kindness and care is given."—Mrs. E J Rule.

Rheumatism Cured

"I have had rheumatism for many years but thank God after my treatment at the clinic I can do work and get about. My ears also were very dull, but these also were attended to and now I can hear much better.

"I can thoroughly recommend anyone to the clinic. Splendid food is provided and plenty of it"—Mrs. Lucia Parrott

Prayer before Operation

"It is natural to look forward to a surgical operation with a certain amount of dread, but it brings much comfort to know that the surgeon and his staff undertake their work in a spirit of prayer. Also to be able to spend the recovery period in the beautiful grounds of The Stanboroughs is wonderful. How different from the surroundings of so many hospitals! I am now well, better than I have been for years, and glad to be able to be busy again"—Mrs C Williams

The Food was Excellent

"I went to The Stanboroughs for a major operation and I would like everyone to know how grateful I am for all that was done for me while there. I got on wonderfully well. The doctors were so good to me, also the matron and nurses. They gave me every possible attention day and night and were always so pleasant. The food was excellent and always served in an attractive manner which is so necessary when one is ill. I shall always be grateful to our heavenly Father that I went to The Stanboroughs."—Mrs H. L. Fisher.

Surpassed Other Hospitals

"I should like to express my heartfelt thanks for all the benefits I received from The Stanboroughs Hospital. The kindness and human sympathy from the doctors, matron, and nurses surpassed everything I have experienced at other hospitals. The congenial and healthy surroundings and the courtesy that comes from everyone, all help in the restoration of health. It almost makes me wish to come again for a general nerve tonic."—Mrs. Mallery.

Perfect!

"A nicer and cooler hospital would be hard to find. Perfect is the word for it."—Miss Olive Gooding-Williams

Christian Nurses

"It is good to know that members can come to such a lovely place as our new hospital and have the best and safest treatment for all the ills of life; to be attended by Christian nurses and have the advice of doctors who depend entirely on the great Healer for wisdom."—Mrs. P. Thomas.

Came Away Quite Different

"I was privileged to have a month there as my health was so bad. I came away quite different both physically and spiritually."—Miss H. Garratt.

Miraculous Recovery

"I had a most miraculous recovery at the hospital, thanks be to God. The doctors and all the nurses showed great kindness and goodness to me. May God bless the medical work that is going on there and may all the patients benefit as much as I did"—Mrs C. N. Byatt

Changed Outlook

"The excellent treatment and attention I received completely changed my outlook on life. The spirit of Christian service was demonstrated in a practical way by the faculty and staff. May God abundantly bless them for their labour of love."—A. L. Morris

All Fears Fled

"I had a terrible dread of hospitals but when I reached Stanborough Park all my fears were gone. Love and kindness were shown by everyone. It gave me much happiness to be in such a lovely place. Delicious food and everything possible for our health was provided. I would like to say that I have quite regained my health"—Mrs A. Mitchell

Would Like to Endow a Dozen Beds

"When I remember the cheerful atmosphere of the hospital and the skill of both doctors and nurses, I wish I had enough money to endow at least a dozen beds, so that many others could avail themselves of the wonderful treatments and find health and vigour and encouragement to keep on keeping on."—Mrs I. R. Hudson

A Sigh of Relief

"What a sigh of relief and rest was mine when at last I had come 'home' and was in The Stanboroughs Hospital. Two weeks before I had been knocked down by a cycle and my right arm was dislocated and shoulder fractured, head injured, and minor injuries. I had been taken by police and ambulance to a local hospital and attended by kind nurses, but—but—

"What a bright, cheery ward this is. How restful to the eyes this particular tint of green of walls and cubicle curtains. What comfortable beds, real feather pillows, and the blankets—surely none better, and what delightful meals!

"Then we ought to be proud of our doctors. Their skill and knowledge is dedicated to God's cause and they recognize Him as the Master Physician. Their kindly cheeriness is like sunshine in the sickroom."—Nurse A. E. Chappell.

All Gave their Best

"I not only received the best of bodily treatment at the hospital, but also spiritual uplift. The peace and serenity of the whole place was all that one could desire. The doctors, the matron, and all the nurses gave of their best to each and every patient."—Mrs. B. Rose.

More Fit that Ever

"I certainly found balm at the hospital, for I went in very ill and weak from chronic asthma, bronchitis, and tonsillitis. I came out well and more fit for business than I have been for years.

"All the staff showed a beautiful spirit of godlikeness and their one purpose was to relieve pain"—Miss F. E. Fancy.

Will Never Forget Kindness

"The Stanboroughs Hospital is a delightful place—far different from an ordinary hospital in more ways than one. Never shall I forget the courtesy and kindness which I experienced during my brief stay."—A. Smith

Cheerful Service

"My stay was considerably brightened by the cheerful service rendered, both by the doctors and staff, which one can only describe as of the real Christlike spirit, which is, alas, very scarcely manifested in the world to-day."—John F. Smith.

All Treated Alike

"I want to say thank you very, very much, and please pass on my thanks to Dr. Nelson and Dr. Cairncross, not forgetting our dear matron, for I have tender memories of the genuine consideration they took in every small way, so as to make things comfortable, and I know that each patient is afforded the same loving care, no one being favoured more than another. And to know that all this wonderful treatment has been brought within the reach of God's people is a blessing that cannot be appreciated to its full value unless one has seen it, or experienced it one's self. It is a grand and noble service that is being carried on in The Stanboroughs Hospital"—J. L. Piper.

Got Better Every Day

"I was suffering from acute inflammation of the sciatic nerve, and my doctor advised me to get into our hospital at once. After talking the matter over with our president it was decided that I should go, and within a few hours I was at Stanborough Park.

"Each day after that I found myself improving and responding wonderfully to the hour spent daily in the best equipped treatment rooms in the country.

"I must not forget to mention also the beautiful spiritual atmosphere which pervades our institution."—W. E. Gregory

Well, there you are. I can't print more or there won't be room for anything else in this issue of the WORKER. Don't you think these testimonies are an overwhelming answer to our first question as to how the hospital has been getting along?

Of course, I know I haven't said anything yet about the finances of the hospital. You wouldn't want me to, I'm sure. Did you ever hear of a hospital that made profits? Of course not. Hospitals will always need money, and this one is no exception to the rule. The only difference between this hospital and others is that it belongs to US, and will chiefly be of benefit, for some time at least, to our own people.

You won't forget this on Sabbath morning, will you? Make your offering a really heavy one so that still more may be enabled to obtain the help and healing they need at The Stanboroughs Hospital.

Autumn Evangelistic Efforts W.

We are very glad that in the providence of God we are able to commence several evangelistic efforts this autumn. In these uncertain times it is a cause of real gratitude to our heavenly Father that our ministers can begin the autumn and winter public work in so many centres. This has been made possible by the loyalty of our churchmembers in their tithes and special gifts, and also in the proportion of the receipts from the special efforts made in the Missions Extension Campaign earlier in the year.

On the map are indicated the places where the special campaigns are being conducted. It shows those already in progress, and those which will begin during the month of October. It is well for us as believers in this Advent movement to lift up our eyes and look on the fields. Truly, as the Saviour remarked, "They are white unto harvest." More and more we must catch a vision of the great work to be done, not only in the world at large, but also in the unentered sections of our own field. Hundreds of cities, many of them quite large, have never as yet heard the sound of the third angel's message. This lays a solemn responsibility upon us all, both leaders and people, to see to it that the voice of warning is sounded without delay.

Might we at this time enlist the prayerful, sympathetic, and practical interest of every member in the evangelistic campaigns now being conducted? Let us think of the following:

1. Remember to pray earnestly for our ministers and Bible-workers.

As the children of Israel in ancient days upheld the hands of Moses, so it is the privilege of God's children in this time to remember those who carry the message to the people, and pray earnestly that they may be blessed of God. The apostle Paul besought the early believers, "Strive together with me in your prayers to God for me." Rom. 15:30. Shall we not do likewise? Why not each day devote perhaps fifteen minutes about the noon hour to this devotional exercise. As we meditate before God, bearing the heralds of the cross on our hearts before Him, we shall be spiritually refreshed, and our hearts will be drawn together in the bonds of fellowship and love.

2. Remember to pray for the souls who hear the message of truth.

This also is our privilege, and what a wonderful privilege it is! God takes us into partnership with Himself and we become "workers together with Him." If perchance we have not been blessed with the gift for public work, we can pray; and this is the privilege of every member of the family of God. Let us plead with the Lord, first of all for a real burden for souls, and then let us pray for men and women, that they may be saved in the kingdom of God.

3. Remember to pray that a new pentecost may come at this time.

This is the time for God to work, for the people have made void His law. It is the time for the latter rain, and the Lord is desirous of sending copious showers upon His people and His work. Shal! we not do as counselled by the prophet Zechariah, "Ask ye of the Lord rain in the time of the latter rain." The promise of the Lord is sure; He will send bright showers, and we shall all benefit as we consecrate our hearts to Him.

4. Remember to pray that funds may be forthcoming, that a larger evangelism may be carried forward.

With our prayers must go our gifts; in fact, we can, in part, answer our own prayers, for a burden for souls manifests itself not only in praying, but in giving. The burden of soul for those dead in trespasses and sins means love for human hearts; and love for mankind reveals itself in liberal gifts to the cause of God. Brethren and sisters, let us pray, let us give, and let us sacrifice, that the work of God at this time may go forward, and that in these Isles we may see a larger work done and multitudes being won to Christ.

Autumn Plans

OUR Committee has voted certain changes and new plans for our winter's work.

PASTOR R. A. ANDERSON will be proclaiming the truth in the Chiswick Empire in a few weeks from now, and assisting him will be Mrs. Brooks and Miss Guntrip, together with the temporary help of Brother George Freeman, whom we welcome as a result of the co-operation of The Stanborough Press.

PASTOR R. S. JOYCE will be conducting his second campaign in Lowestoft very soon, with the assistance of Miss Davies and Miss Stone.

PASTOR C. A. REEVES will be preaching in the Balham Hippodrome, with the assistance of Pastor J. B. West and Miss Wilkins.

PASTOR J. G. BEVAN is to run another campaign in Cheltenham, with the help of Miss Ford.

PASTOR J. M. HOWARD has had some difficulty in finding a hall in Ilford, but we hope he will be holding forth in that large district, with the help of Miss Buckle.

PASTOR L. A. WATSON has taken a hall in the centre of Plymouth, and Miss Keough will be assisting him as Bible-worker.

BROTHER B. F. HARDY, we hope, will be proclaiming the message in a large theatre in Finchley.

THESE are the principal efforts, though there will be one or two smaller series of meetings being held here and there throughout the conference. We invite all to pray that the initial planning may be wise, that the preaching of the Word may be with power, and that the doctrines of the Advent message may be clothed in the Spirit of the living God, so that souls may be won to the Lord during this winter.

FINANCIALLY, we are glad to report that the conference is running about level with its budgeted tithing income, which was the highest figure ever set for the South Conference. Our Ingathering shows a slight improvement above last year's figure, and we are hoping that all our workers and officers and members will, during the next few weeks, put a mighty effort into the Ingathering so that the South Conference proportion of the £10,000 goal will be in hand before the close of the year. We must not fail! God is with us! Let us go forward!

"How it is Done!"—In Manchester

SOMEONE has suggested that the Manchester Church is a "brilliant star" in the constellation of large churches in the British Union so far as Ingathering for missions is concerned.

It is no easy task for our larger non-institutional churches to secure their goals. And yet, Manchester, the second largest non-institutional church in the Union, does so magnificently. Already, at the fourth report, £167 is in the hands of the treasurer.

Some say, "How do you do it?"

Well, it is not because we have 100 per cent working membership. We have too many aged and infirm to make that possible. And, unfortunately, we do have a few who "stand by." But the majority of our able-bodied members "have a mind to work," settle down to the task, and keep at it until the work is done.

This year we have adopted a slightly different system. The church is divided into ten bands under ten good leaders. Each band has a goal of £25. Thus the ten bands are responsible for £250 of the £284 required. The remaining £34 is being cared for in another manner and already over half of that has been collected.

The value of this method is this: that the members instead of thinking of collecting such a vast sum as nearly £300, think only in terms of £25. And that is the figure that is kept before the membership. We have nicely painted cards (3 ft. by 1½ ft.) for each band of a thermometer capable of registering £25. These ten cards are hung in order of merit, each Sabbath, in front of the choir gallery of the Ivy Chapel, so that each member can detect the state and position of his respective band.

We encourage the band leaders in turn to encourage their members and they are making a good job of it.

Every member, at the beginning of the campaign, was given a neat parcel of supplies sufficient to make a good start. Freshly-labelled boxes and signed cards, etc., are awaiting each collector as the need arises. Our organization is thoroughly efficient and the whole working membership has caught the same efficient spirit.

From time to time we give opportunity in church service for members to relate any outstanding experiences and on the third Sabbath of the campaign we had a symposium by band leaders, each being given two minutes to say anything he felt burdened to say, so long as it concerned the Ingathering.

It would be invidious to make reference to persons who have done well, for all are doing well so far as trying goes. However, one must refer to our lay-leader and secretary of Ingathering, Brother W. McLeod, who is the busiest man in the church at the moment, keeping supplies up to date, receiving monies, counting, banking, and acting as medium between the church and the conference.

Yes, Manchester expects to complete her great task by the close of the sixth week so that we can turn to other tasks and matters which will be waiting.

Our little church at Bolton, with Brethren Platt and Birchby as leaders, is pegging away and full of confidence in spite of the acute distress occasioned by depression in the cotton industry. At Ashton-under-Lyne, also in our group, where Brother and Sister Hilton are the lone workers, the goal has been passed to the extent of £10, which, if necessary, can help out in our Bolton members' task, though I suspect that a legitimate Lancashire independence will make that unnecessary!

S. GEORGE HYDE.

A Tent in Manchester!

TENTS are ideal—for summer camps—but we thought Manchester to be the last place in which to hold a tent campaign. And it seemed as if our misgivings were well founded, for, in spite of God's manifest leading in the choice of a site, our first attendances were far from encouraging. But we knew the Lord wanted us to succeed, so we prayed hard and worked hard, with the result that our meetings, instead of decreasing, have grown and maintained a steady level.

The interest shown has been an even greater cause for thankfulness. Souls have been waiting for the truth—God must have held them back, preventing their going elsewhere until we came with the message for these last days. At first we wondered whether all in Stretford were allied to the Brethren, for so many appeared to be in close association with them. That, however, proved but a small obstacle, for what we in our humanity were unable to do, God's Spirit has accomplished, weaning away from error, and causing them to grow into the glorious light of the truth. Many of these newly-born babes are in the turmoils of first attempts at Sabbath-keeping, but we are confident that God will keep them true.

Now, in spite of the unpropitious opening, in spite of the apparent slowness with which the light has dawned upon Lancashire hearts—we can see blades and ears ripening into full corn for the formation of many sheaves.

When the harvest takes place, it will not only be due to the untiring efforts of Pastor G. Hyde and his helpers, but also to the invaluable help given by faithful churchmembers. Among these must be numbered the small but gallant choir under Brother Halstead, which has helped to brighten the services and interest the people by the messages it has sung.

Winds, rains, and violent storms have done their best to remove the tent—but it has been founded upon a Rock, therefore it is still standing and will remain so until the first week in October, when the effort will be transferred to a well-situated town hall. Your prayers are needed for those who are in the valley of decision, for the believers in Manchester, and especially for Brother Hyde and Sister Himsworth as they work for the salvation of souls in God's kingdom. We know you will not fail!

Notes from the Superintendent

SPECIAL services for the dedication of our Barry Church building and Harvest Thanksgiving will be held on Sabbath and Sunday, October 13th and 14th. With the good help of the British Union the Lower Pyke Street Chapel, Barry Dock, is now entirely free of debt. The members and friends at Barry have lifted a heavy load during the past two years as well as reaching their Harvest Ingathering and other goals.

Pastor A. S. Maxwell will be with us for this special week-end. The dedication service will be on Sabbath, October 13th, at 3.15 p.m. Services on Sunday, October 14th, will be held at 3 p.m. and 6.30 p.m.

Members in the district are invited to attend. We look forward to a splendid gathering.

BAPTISMS have been held from the efforts at Merthyr and Abertillery. Further details of these good results will appear later.

PLANS for the autumn are now being made. It is expected that three or four new evangelistic campaigns will begin at the end of October. It is our desire that a strong evangelism shall be maintained throughout the Mission; we ask your prayers for guidance and blessing upon the advisory committee as they meet at this time.

A Study of Labels

We have developed a class of mentality, in this age, that delights in attaching a label to everything. In many respects it has its advantages, although it can be a little disconcerting, as for instance, when the young boy looks up into the sky, sees an aeroplane, calls it a Moth, Hawker Fury, or whatever its brand name may be, and the poor guardian adult anxiously looks at the machine again wondering where the youngster picked up the information.

The habit of putting degrees after a person's name is familiar to us all. We have labels for all sorts of qualified men, such as B.A.'s, M.A.'s, D.D.'s, M.D.'s, etc., and now the amusing suggestion has been put forth that this label idea should be extended. Think of the unlimited possibilities. You stand on your dentist's doorstep in a state of nervous tension wondering if he is a sympathetic man capable of pulling your tooth out with all consideration of your fearfulness or a strong, silent, stand-no-nonsense-out-it-comes sort. You look at his nameplate and see V.S. for "very sympathetic," or P.N.N. for "precise, no nonsense," after his name and the nervousness is greatly mitigated for you can choose the characteristic you like best in your dentist.

You may like a doctor who bursts upon you in a bright, breezy manner, so you look for one with J.B.S. after his name, which stands for "jolly back-slapper," or you may hate that sort, so you let an S.B.M. ("silent bedside manner") visit you.

What a lot of weariness we could miss, if knowing certain persons were of the "bouncing type," we could evade them, especially at social gatherings, where Mr. Jones would be announced as Mr. Jones, B.T. And how seriously would we search out the "generous type" when we do our Harvest Ingathering. We would not waste much time with Mrs. Montgomery, N.F.M. ("nothing for missions")

When we were formed as a business house we attached a label to our foods which has become widely used. We called them Health Foods. As the years have come and gone we have become more and more proud of our label. Each year brings the public more and more to realize that attention must be paid to the kind of food eaten. "There must be a nation-wide campaign for cleaner, purer food. The secret of good health lies in the way you live and the food you eat." The milk, fish, and meat supplies all call for the closest governmental investigation and the problems seem almost unsolvable. When you buy GRANOSE Health Foods you know that you are incorporating into your diet food of proved health worth and above reproach so far as purity goes.

Our churchmembers are all interested in Food Reform and, if they are not availing themselves of our special offer, should send to Granose Foods Ltd, Watford, for special terms for churchmembers and latest Price Catalogue.

At Rest

GREEN.—Mrs Eugenie Green, the wife of Brother John Green, one of our veteran colporteurs, passed away at the age of sixty-three years at The Stanboroughs on September 13th. For thirty-two years Brother and Sister Green served the Lord in this message, which they loved with all their hearts, and to the end Sister Green rejoiced in the Lord and was ready to meet Him. A number of souls in the south of England have been won to the truth as the result of the work of this faithful couple. Mrs. W. Raitt (née Miss Hilda Green) and her father, Brother Green, remain to mourn their loss, and we pray for them at this hour. We buried Sister Green at Watford on September 18th and are sure to meet her when Jesus comes.
